Woman Held in Tower For Shooting Husband While He Sat in Bed

Mrs. Rosa Lee and Asa S. Lee Had Quarreled the Night Before, According to Neighbors.

FIRES FIVE BULLETS AND ONE TAKES EFFECT

Lee Is Wounded in Right Lung, But Doctors Say He Has Good Chance to Recover From Injuries.

Mrs. Rosa Lee, 22 years old, is in Fulton county Tower held without bond, and her husband, Asa S. Lee is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Cook, on Woodlawn avenue in Ormewood Park, with a bullet wound through his right lung, as the result of a shooting affray staged at the Cook home early Sunday morning.

The shooting occurred while her husband was sitting up in bed, and is said to have been the result of a quarrel the night before, occasioned by the fact that Lee was late in coming home.

Shoots Five Times.

According to the story told by the police, Lee had not gotten out of bed, but was sitting up, when his wife opened fire. Five shots were discharged, four of them missing and one lodged in the wall, but the fifth struck the husband in the right lung.

Drs. W. H. Owens and W. E. Quillian were summoned and the Grady ambulance was called. When it arrived, however, it was found that Lee was too weak to be moved, and that there was danger of hemmorrhage, so he remained at the home. Physicians Sunday night said he had a good chance to live.

Mrs. Lee was placed under arrest by County Officers Hornsby and Wells and was taken to the police station, later being transferred to the Fulton county tower, where she is being held without bond on a charge of attempted murder.

Story of Neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee lived at the home of his sister, Mrs. Cook. According to stories told by neighbors, the two had a quarrel on Saturday night when the man was late in coming home.

Sunday morning, it is stated, Mrs. Lee packed up all her belongings, with the intention of moving. Just what occurred between the two before the shooting was unknown to the officers.

After the shooting it was stated by neighbors that Mrs. Lee went to the home of an acquaintance and urged her to call a doctor, saying that her husband was sick. When the nieghbor delayed the call for a minute or so, Mrs. Lee is said to have told her that she and her husband had a quarrel and that she had shot him.

Lee has been a candymaker but has been out of a job for some time.

DR. W. F. HAMMOCK DIES EARLY MONDAY

Well-Known Atlanta Physician Had Been Ill for Several Weeks.

Dr. W. F. Hammock, of 187 West Alexander street, well known physician and business man of Atlanta, died early Monday morning, following an illness of several weeks.

Dr. Hammock, who was 52 years of age, has been a resident of Atlanta for thirty years, and had been associated with a number of the most important retail drug stores of the city and throughout the state, being actively engaged in business up until two months ago, when he was forced to retire on account of ill health.

He was the son of the late Judge J. D. Hammock, of Crawfordsville, Ga., his native home, and was a graduate of the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. W. W Bird, of Crawfordsville, and a brother-in-law, Dr. L. P. Stephens, of Atlanta. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Waifs of Nation To Be Cared For Near Greenville

Salvation Army to Establish Great Colony for Children on Donated Land.

New York, April 3.—An old dream of the Salvation Army to establish a community for the care of waifs from all over the country is about to be realized, Commander Evangeline Booth announced tonight, through the gift of a tract of land near Greenville, S. C., for that purpose.

In accepting the gift, Miss Booth promised the plan will become a reality within ten years. The land comprises 109 acres overlooking the city and includes a 35-acre peach orchard. It was the gift of W. W. Burgess, a Greenville manufacturer, who made it as a memorial to his young son, who died recently.

A colony for children alone will be built upon the tract, Commander Booth said. There will be schools, a church, a hospital, modern homes and other necessary buildings. Orphans, hospital waifs and street children from every city in the country will be sent there to gain educations and better starts in life.

"No more desirable site for the children's village could be found," said Commander Booth on making the announcement. The gift was a voluntary one following an address the army leader made in Greenville recently. The land overlooks the Blue Ridge mountains on an elevation that commands a sweeping view of Greenville and the surrounding territory.

MARINE PLANES ON LONG FLIGHT RESTED SUNDAY

Miami, Fla., April 3.—The two marine corps planes on a trail-blazing trip to the Virgin Islands, rested here over Sunday. Early tomorrow morning they will hop off on the sixth lap of the trip for Key West and possibly continue on to Havana before night.

The planes will be guided across the gulf to the Havana landing field by a big seaplane tendered by a local aviation company.

COUNCIL TO ACT ON SPECIAL TAXES

Meeting Today Will Be Featured by Hot Race for Place on Police Board Vacated by Maddox.

Consideration of the emergency tax levy, the election of a police commissioner from the fifth ward to succeed J. W. Maddox, resigned, and action on whether or not the American committee for relief in Ireland will be permitted to solicit funds publicly in Atlanta will hold the center of the stage at city council meeting this afternoon.

This morning at 11 o'clock the finance committee will meet to discuss the emergency tax and decide on a recommendation to council. There is a deficit in the school department of nearly $300,000, besides the sinking fund and interest on any amount of bonds that may be sold this year, that must be cared for.

Mayor Key has asked the committee to recommend the levy of 15 or 20 cents on the $100. Councilman R. A. Gordon, father of the bond movement, is staunchly in favor of the levy of one-eighth of 1 per cent, which would be 12½ cents on the $100.

The 45-hundredths of 1 per cent already levied will be repealed and a substitute levy made.

For the position of police commissioner a hot contest is certain. Ellis Barrett, young attorney, and R. E. Jones, superintendent of the Spratt Chair company, are candidates for the place. Against Barrett is the strength of the Maddox faction. Barrett will be nominated by Councilman W. M. Etheridge, of the fifth ward, while the nomination of Jones will come from Alderman C. R. Garner and Councilman J. A. Couch, who were supporters of Maddox. Both candidates are claiming victory. The race is expected to be close.

Barrett Sunday claimed a majority of votes pledged to him. "When I entered this race it was my first time to delve in politics, and I do not consider this a political venture," he said. "I think politics should be eliminated from the police board.

"The only statement I have made as to being lined up with any faction, is that I am with an officer as long as he is right, and that I will stand by and defend him so long as right is on his side; but would not uphold him if he was wrong, even though it was my best friend. I entered this race at the earnest solicitation of some of the best citizens of the fifth ward, where I was born and raised.

Council's action on the Irish question is expected to terminate a controversy that has been waged between the mayor and the Irish relief committee over the question of soliciting funds. The Irish declare that the proposed collection is for the starving of Ireland, a purely humanitarian purpose.

On the other hand, the mayor asserts that he has not been convinced that the matter is fully divorced from any political taint.

FAMOUS MINSTREL, AL G. FIELD, DIES AT SEVENTY-TWO

Columbus, Ohio, April 3.—Alfred Griffin ("Al G.") Field, premier of American minstrels, died at his home here today, his death resulting from Bright's disease. He was born seventy-two years ago, in Leesburg, Va.

Mr. Field was educated in the common schools at Brownsville and Pittsburg, Pa., later becoming interested in banking and farming, and in 1886 entered the theatrical business, organizing a minstrel show which has operated continuously since that time.

Mr. Field was a former high national officer of the Elks and widely known in Masonic circles. The funeral will be held here Tuesday afternoon.

CHANGE UNLIKELY IN U. S. PROGRAM ON GERMAN PEACE

OPPOSITION CERTAIN BY IRRECONCILABLES

Republican Leaders Believe Harding Will Not Approve of Any Change in Resolution.

BY LOWELL MELLETT,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, April 3.—Without subjecting it to prolonged and bitter discussion—and thus greatly lessening its intended moral effect—administration leaders cannot obtain the adoption of the Knox peace resolution so amended as to reassure France concerning the future attitude of this country. Therefore, adoption of the resolution in essentially the same form as reported by the senate foreign relations committee last session is practically assured. Any effort to affix to it a declaration of continued support of the allies or of the French, designed to impress Germany and hearten France, will meet with instant opposition by the so-called irreconcilables.

These senators do not believe, in spite of repeated reports, that President Harding has any idea of suggesting such an addition to the Knox resolution. They point out that he opposed, when in the senate, a similar attempt to fasten onto the peace resolution a declartion of future policy toward Europe.

Conference Not Published.

Silence has been maintained both at the white house and at the senator's office concerning the course taken in the two-hour conversation between the president and Senator Knox Saturday, but there is reason to believe it had to do rather with the exact time when the resolution's adoption should be attempted, rather than with any suggestion that the resolution be modified. The senate is ready to pass the original resolution again as soon as it meets. But, since it is anticipated that the administration will make some sort of pronouncement—probably through the state department—furnishing the encouragement that Viviani is seeking, and since there are certain other diplomatic negotiations under way, including those on cables, for example, Senator Knox is not desirous of embarrassing the president's program. His own desire is to have the resolution adopted at once, but he is prepared to fit it in with the general program.

Senator Borah, one of the most active of the irreconcilables, denied today that he has any thought of opposing the Knox resolution.

"I am thoroughly in favor of it as it passed last session," he said. "I opposed then the interpolation of any phase or clause that undertook to declare our future policy. Such a clause was taken out of the resolution, on my motion, in committee."

Borah Would Fight.

Borah can be expected to make a hard tight against an attempt again to interpolate such a clause, and in this fight he will have the support of the remainder of the group, enough of them, with democratic opponents of the whole resolution, to defeat it.

Consideration is given to a plan for passing a separate resolution declaring America's support of the allies, but such a resolution would draw the same opposition from the same sources.

"By the time a resolution of that kind gets through the senate," one member said, "its reassurance to the allies will be extremely dubious. It will be like the story they tell of a certain middle western congressman who invited a friend home to dinner. The friend was reluctant and finally asked if the congressman's wife knew he was being invited.

"Know it? I'll say she does! We've been arguing on the phone about it for half an hour," replied the congressman.

He explained that it was not lack of sympathy for France, and not friendship for Germany that moves those opposing such a resolution, but a determination to adhere to "America's traditional policy of non-involvement in European affairs."

TOURISTS WILL VISIT 35 CITIES IN GEORGIA

The Greater Georgia Tech Industrial Tour, composed of more than one hundred well-known Georgians together with prominent business men and public speakers from various states of the country will leave Atlanta Monday morning at 8 o'clock on a special train, which is to take the party to thirty-five cities throughout the state, for the purpose of advertising the Greater Tech campaign.

Officials stated Sunday night that the famous Tech band, composed of thirty-five pieces, and the Tech quartet has been engaged to accompany the tour.

Elaborate plans have been arranged by the committe in charge of a special train consisting of six Pullmans and baggage car, having been engaged for the accommodation of the party, which is composed of prominent educators, and civic and business leaders from over the United States in general.

First Tour Made.

The idea of the trip, it was stated, developed as a natural sequence to the first industrial tour held last fall which visited seven of the industrial centers of the north, including Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Boston, New York, Washington Cleveland and Niagara Falls, and which was heralded in the northern and eastern newspapers as the forerunner of an industrial new era in the "Empire State of the South."

Members of the tour, which is to last throughout the week, returning to Atlanta next Saturday night, include Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, who made the northern trip; ex-Governor Nat E. Harris, chairman of the board of trustees of Georgia Tech; President K. G. Matheson, of Georgia Tech; Dr. M. L. Brittain, state superintendent of education; Colonel B. L. THREE ARE HURT BY AUTOS SUNDAY

Two Boys Graze Death When Struck by Speeding Machine, Which Fails to Stop.

Two automobile accidents Sunday night, one the result, it is charged, of reckless driving, came near causing the death of three people.

Francis Seluskey, small 2-year-old son of Mrs. Jessie Seluskey, of 210 South Forsyth street, and Aaron Lenn, of 29 Melton avenue, suffered severe injuries when an automobile in which several negroes were riding ran them down at the corner of South Forsyth and Brotherton streets. The small child, who was being led across the street by Lenn, was removed to Grady hospital, suffering from a fractured skull. Lenn, who also received treatment at the hospital, is said not to have been injured so seriously.

Witnesses stated that the automobile operated by the negroes was traveling at a rate of speed estimated at 50 miles an hour, and failed to stop after the accident occurred.

Sarah Bob Minor, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Minor, of 185 Hopkins street, suffered severe injuries about 8 o'clock, when she was run over by an automobile, in front of her home, driven by Jewell Underwood, of Hapeville. Witnesses said that the accident appeared to be unavoidable. The child was taken to Grady hospital for treatment.

Ex-King Is Ill; Delays Leaving For Exile Again

Vienna, However, Hints Illness of Charles May Be Mostly "Diplomatic."

Steinamanger, April 3.—Former Emperor Charles is ill with bronchitis. He is suffering from fever and is having nervous coughing attacks, according to a bulletin issued today by his Budapest physicians. The bulletin says the former king has no appetite and that he is obliged to remain in bed.

VIENNA THINKS ILLNESS "DIPLOMATIC."

Vienna, April 3.—Former Emperor Charles is ill at Steinamanger, according to reports reaching entente diplomats here. The report is coupled with a request for an allied physician to go to Steinamanger.

There is some inclination to regard the indisposition of Charles as "diplomatic illness," contracted in order that the former emperor may obtain a further delay in leaving Steinamanger.

The postponement in the departure of Charles is beginning to cause irritation here as well as in Prague and Belgrade. According to dispatches from the latter places, there are indications that early steps may be taken to hasten the departure of Charles.

The belief prevails in some quarters that Charles may start for Switzerland tonight, now that the transportation difficulties have been settled. But this is still contingent on possible developments at Steinamanger, where it is reported that large numbers of members of the nobility are arriving. The little town is crowded with Hungarian notables in numbers never before known in its history.

In foreign circles here it is asserted that Charles will resist removal pending Tuesday's meeting of parliament. Count Andrassy is said to be adroitly trying to save the day for the Hapsburgs by inducing Charles to abdicate in favor of Archduke Otto, his 9-year-old son, under a regency.

The difficulty of getting the former king out of Hungary is said to be due to differences between the various interests in charge of the situation. It is understood that the socialists have firmly maintained the position that two of their army officers and six men should accompany Charles in order to continue the fiction that he is a prisoner. The allied officials and the Hungarians, supported by the Austrian police, refused this as unnecessarily complicating matters. Certain allied officers last night agreed to induce the associates and Hungarians to consent to the socialist plan, and the socialists yielded on the question of the actual presence of the escort in Charles' compartment.

It is believed that Charles will travel through Bavaria, thus avoiding passing through Styria and Tyrol, where he fears demonstrations, although there is some hitch over getting Germany's consent.

The Salzburg diet has unanimously protested against Charles having visited Austria and demanded that the central government prevent a recurrence of the visit. The Ardelter Zeitung today asks how long Charles is to be permitted constantly to pass to and from Austria.

Berne, Switzerland, April 3.—The Swiss authorities have received a message which leads them to expect that former Emperor Charles will arrive at the frontier station of Buchs Monday morning, accompanied by British and French officers. Charles, it is said, will not be permitted to return to Prangins, but will stay at some other place until it is determined where he shall reside.

Paris, April 3.—It is said that when former Emperor Charles left Switzerland for Strassbourg he was accompanied by his brother-in-law, Prince Sixtus of Bourbon, who had gone to Switzerland from Paris taking with him a Spanish passport which enabled Charles to travel from Basle to Strassbourg.

Sixtus, although a Belgian artillery officer, twice visited Charles during the war in an effort to have Austria effect a separate peace with the allies.

Single Seat Sale For Grand Opera Will Open Today

There Are Still Many Choice Seats Left for Single Performances.

The sale of single seats for the 1921 season of Metropolitan grand opera opens this morning at 9 o'clock at the Broad street store of the Cable Piano company, and it is expected that the interest in the season will create a demand for the single seats which will surpass even the splendid sale of season tickets reported by officers of the Atlanta Music Festival association.

Despite the fact that there was a large local demand and an unusually brisk out-of-town demand for season tickets, C. B. Bidwell, treasurer of the association, announces that there are still a great number of choice seats for sale to the single performances. The greatest demand is expected to center about tickets for the performances in which Beniamino Gigli, the sensational new Italian tenor, will sing; with the appearance of Lucrezia Bori, returned to the operatic stage after a five-year absence running a close second.

Program of Week.

Music lovers of Atlanta and the entire south have expressed them-

MORE CONFIDENCE FELT BY BUSINESS, SURVEY INDICATES

Commercial World Still Feeling Way, But With Conviction That Worst Is Over.

LIQUIDATION PERIOD SUCCESSFULLY PASSED

Houston Comments on Second National Survey Made by Fidelity and Deposit Company.

Baltimore, April 3.—David F. Houston, commenting today on the second survey of national conditions just completed by the Fidelity and Deposit company, said:

"The survey indicates that the business world is still feeling its way, but with increasing confidence and with the conviction that the worst has passed. The country has successfully borne the strain caused by a most notable drop in prices, particularly of a vast volume of raw materials, and has weathered a trying period of liquidation.

"The demand for finished products has not developed to the point where our factories feel justified in taking the requisite quantity of our surplus raw materials to furnish the necessary relief to their producers; but there are some indications of a change in this direction. Business men realize that forced action based on artificial optimism may lead to unwise action, and produce further embarrassment. The foreign situation has not shown the expected improvement, and continued difficulties are experienced in discovering an effective European market for our commodities.

"This survey does point to certain favorable domestic conditions. The cost of living has appreciably diminished. Building operations in a number of districts tend to increase. There have recently been no strikes of consequence, Greater productivity of labor per man is reported from all districts.

Raw Materials Plentiful.

"Raw materials are plentiful, and physical transportation conditions are good. There have been no business failures of moment. The crop

CONFERENCE HELD BY UNION LEADERS

Several Hundred General Chairmen, Representing Two Million Employees, Are in Atlanta.

Several hundred general chairmen, representing approximately two million union employees on all the railroads in the southeastern section of the United States, met Sunday in the ballroom of the Piedmont hotel in all-day executive session.

An attempt to secure a statement as to the purpose of the meeting was met by the simple announcement that the general chairmen were in convention, but that there would be no information to give out concerning the meeting until some definite action had been taken Monday.

The gathering here of the brotherhood officials, representing every craft on every line in the southeast, when the A., B. & A. employees, or former employees, are on strike in protest against a cut in wages, and when many announcements are being made by other roads that reductions in pay are being considered, is looked upon as highly significant, especially in view of the fact that vigorous challenges were made as to the right of the A., B. & A. to cut wages, and the proffer of aid from the union men on other roads, should the A., B. & A. brotherhoods and crafts decide to resist such reductions.

Nothing Given Out.

Nothing could be learned, however, of a definite nature as to what the general chairmen are discussing, or what action they are likely to take regarding either the present A., B. & A. situation or the threatened wage reductions that have been indicated by other railroads in this section.

It will be recalled that when the wage reduction for the A., B. & A. employees was first announced, on December 29, by Colonel B. L. Bugg, then president of the railroad, the opposition of all the various crafts employed on the different railways of the southeast was instantly crystallized, and at a meeting of the Atlanta Federation of Railway Employees, which was held on January 1, the proposed wage cut on the A., B. & A. was declared to be but the forerunner of a national effort to cut all railroad wages, and the employees of the A., B. & A. were not only advised to resist the proposal to the last ditch, but were told that in their efforts to stem the wage reduction tide they would be given the backing of every union employee on a railroad in the United States.

The general strike, as a means of preventing what the union men declared to be the beginning of a general wage reduction, was freely discussed.

Wage Cut Ordered.

TROOPS WILL NOT BE PUT ON GUARD AT PEONAGE TRIAL

Judge Hutcheson Says People Anxious That Justice Be Done and Soldiers Are Not Needed.

EVIDENCE GIVEN JURY OF FIFTEEN KILLINGS

Lawyers for State and for Defense Spend Sunday Preparing for Hearing in Covington Tuesday.

BY MARION KENDRICK.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Covington, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) With the trial of John S. Williams, prominent Jasper county farmer, charged with murder in connection with the killing of eleven negroes in the vicinity of his farm twenty miles from here, set for Tuesday morning, officials and attorneys for both the state and defense spent a busy day examining witnesses and making investigations here today, while Judge John B. Hutcheson announced no troops will be requested to guard the courthouse.

In making the announcement that he had decided not to ask Governor Hugh M. Dorsey to send troops to Covington for the trial, Judge Hutcheson declared that he had the greatest confidence in the law-abiding people of both Newton and Jasper county to see that nothing improper occurs during the hearing. He added that the general public sentiment demanded justice and that, in his opinion, nothing would happen to interfere with Williams receiving a fair trial.

No Need of Troops.

"While I have been considering suggestions from important state officials to call troops here next week," he said, "I feel that such action would be unnecessary. The better class of people of both Newton and Jasper counties are law-abiding and desired that the defendants in the murder cases be given a fair and impartial trial," he said.

It was definitely established by the correspondent tonight that the Newton county grand jury had received evidence during its recent investigations of the murders on the "death farm" to the effect that fifteen negroes have been killed there since 1915. The Constitution's story Sunday morning concerning Williams' admission to the grand jury that one of his sons had killed a negro on the plantation last fall, claiming that he acted in self-defense, was read and pronounced correct by another prominent investigator tonight. He indicated that the trial would reveal many angles of the case which have not yet been released for publication.

Greene F. Johnson, leading counsel for Williams, was in Covington throughout the day conferring with witnesses for the defense. During the day he visited the Williams farm and made a tour of the sections of Jasper and Newton counties where the eleven bodies were discovered after Clyde Manning, an employee of Williams, had confessed and pointed out the graves to officials.

Manning's Confession.

In his confession, Manning declared that he and other negroes killed some of the blacks at Williams' instructions, while the white farmer assisted in the murder of others. Both Williams and Manning are held in the Fulton county Tower in Atlanta with other material witnesses. The defendants and witnesses will be brought here early Tuesday morning by Sheriff B. L. Johnson, who will be accompanied by a number of armed deputies.

Solicitor-General A. M. Brand, who will direct the prosecution of Williams, stated that he would hold an important conference with W. M. Howard, former congressman and prominent Augusta attorney who who been engaged to assist the solicitor and Assistant Attorney-General Graham Wright. The conference will be held in Atlanta, he stated, and all three will return to Covington early in the afternoon.

ILLINOIS LEGION PROTESTS PARDON IN DEBS CASE

Chicago, April 3. — A protest against the granting of executive clemency to Eugene V. Debs, confined in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., was sent to Col. F. W. Galbraith, jr., national commander of the American Legion, by William R. McCauley, state commander, today.

The telegram said:

"The department of Illinois is unalterably opposed to the parole or release of Debs, or any other person who had been convicted of disloyalty to the government during the war, and we urge that all necessary steps be taken to prevent such action."

It is planned to submit resolutions protesting against Debs' release to each of the 700 legion posts in the state.

Meet With War Finance Corporation to Discuss Boosting of Exports of Dixie Products.

GOVERNMENT IS READY TO HELP FINANCIALLY

Bankers May Be Urged to Pool Resources to Provide Ample Security for Loans.

Washington, April 3.—Directors of the War Finance corporation will meet here tomorrow with representative bankers of the south to consider methods of financing exports of cotton and other agricultural products of that section.

The bankers will be informed, it is understood, that the government is ready on adequate security to extend financial aid through the finance corporation for exportation of the agricultural products to any part of the world.

Officials indicated tonight that the bankers might be urged to syndicate their financial strength for an export program in order that plenty of security can be offered for government loans. Through such a combination of funds, it was said, nothing ought to stand in the way of obtaining the necessary money from the finance corporation.

REPORT ON COTTON GROWING.

Cotton growers can meet the present price situation by "carefully considering" operating expenses and reducing them whenever there is a likelihood of obtaining a low yield per acre, the department of agriculture says in a report today on the results of a survey on basic requirements and cost of producing cotton.

By applying last year's man and mule rates for labor and prices then paid for seed and fertilizer to the basic requirements in an investigation in Mitchell county, Georgia, the average operating expense of cotton was fixed at approximately 33 cents pere pound there.

Items of Cost.

Men and mule rates for labor in this investigation and seed and fertilizer costs, the department says, constituted 84 per cent of the total operating expense, exclusive of land rent. Other expenses amounting to 16 per cent of the total included such items as ginning, manure, equipment, taxes, insurance and overhead. Man labor was charged at the rate of 30 cents per hour, mule labor 20 cents per hour, seed $81 per ton and fertilizer at $46 per ton. From the total cost of $56.16 per acre, a seed credit of $3.90 was deducted, making a total net cost of $52.26.

Asserting that the rates for labor and seed did not start to decline until after the 1920 crop had been produced, the report adds:

Lesson of Year.

"With cotton around 12 to 15 cents per pound the returns not only allowed no interest on capital, but failed to pay operating expenses at going rates for labor and prevailing prices for agriculture. With cotton at 15 cents per pound, it would require a yield of approximately 450 pounds of lint to cover operating expenses.

"The application of the basic requirements of production in estimating costs should be of vital interest to growers at this time," the report adds. "The history of the year 1920 will not be forgotten immediately, and it will be safe to say that the lessons of this period will bear some fruit."

1,224 YANK DEAD RETURN ABOARD NEW TRANSPORT

New York, April 3.—Another funeral ship has arrived here with the bodies of the dead—the Cambrai, of the American army transport service, with 1,224 coffins in her hold, including those of several hundred men who fell while fighting in the 27th and Rainbow divisions. Other ships in the harbor all dipped their colors to the Cambrai as she steamed up to her dock with her own flag at half mast.

The joint funeral services for all the bodies will be held on the dock in Hoboken on Thursday. Meantime a constant guard of honor will be maintained.

The Cambrai brought eight German brides of soldiers from the army of occupation among the 548 passengers. There were 63 passengers in the cabin, mostly officers and members of their families, and in the steerage there were 485 time-expired enlisted men or men returning from the army of occupation for assignment to other units.

GRAND JURY GETS BRIEF VACATION

There were no new developments Sunday in the bunco ring situation, Solicitor John A. Boykin being out of the city, and the grand jury dismissed for a week-end vacation that will last until Wednesday morning, when the probe will again be taken up.

Solicitor John A. Boykin, who left the city Saturday in the touring car of John A. Manget, one of his backers in the movement to clean up Atlanta, will return in time to be present at the reconvening of the Fulton county grand jury Wednesday.

Mr. Boykin, who has been working without a let-up for several months, took advantage of an opportunity to have a few days' rest, and, without announcing his intention to anyone except his close friends, he, with Mrs. Boykin, departed Saturday for a week-end vavation.

Grand Jurors Get Rest.

The grand jury, which has also been working overtime for several weeks on the bunco probe, was also given a brief vacation, adjourning at the end of last week with the date for reconvening fixed at Wednesday next.

The vacations that have come to the prosecuting attorney and to the investigative body of the Fulton county criminal court were made possible, it was declared, by the indisposition of Judge John D. Humphries, who will take a short rest. Judge John Hardeman, of Louisville, will preside over the criminal division of the Fulton courts during the present week, during Judge Humphries' absence.

Assistant Solicitor-General E. A. Stephens Saturday night stated that there has been no developments in the bunco probe during the day, and that it was not likely that anything of importance in connection with the sensational investigation will be announced from Mr. Boykin's office until the return of the solicitor-general and the reconvening of the grand jury on Wednesday.

Sensations Expected.

Much interest, however, centers about the controversy that has sprung up over the coming councilmanic probe of the Atlanta police department, and sensational things are looked upon as most likely to transpire at any time in connection with the probe that the city fathers are preparing to make on April 11.

Much discussion was precipitated Sunday in Atlanta by the published card of Judge J. K. Hines, of counsel for A. Lamar Poole, chief of detectives, who called upon the citizens of the city to suspend judgment with reference to the charges of connivance or ignorance on the parts of the detective force as to the operations of the big bunco ring.

Efforts to reach Chairman Sims, of the councilmanic investigation committee, last night for a statement failed, but it is understood that plans are rapidly going forward for the hearing that is scheduled to begin on April 11.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Lily, Ky.—"I suffered from stomach and liver trouble. Had 'gassy' stomach and heartburn and had headache most of the time. After each meal I was sick, could scarcely keep anything on my stomach, not even water. I didn't think there was a medicine made that would cure me; but after using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I can eat anything I want and it does not hurt me. I will always praise this medicine."—MRS. LIZZIE FREDERICK.

VIVIANI CONFERS WITH KNOX SUNDAY

French Envoy and Pennsylvania Senator Talk for Two Hours at Latter's Home.

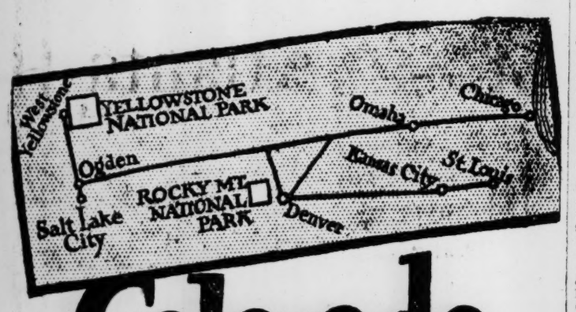

Washington, April 3.—Rene Viviani, former premier of France, who is on a mission to this country as an envoy extraordinary, conferred for more than two hours today with Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, at his home and took occasion, it is understood, to express appreciation of the policy of this country as recently stated by administration officials that Germany must accept full responsibility for the war and pay her liabilities to the full extent of her ability.

State department officials said tonight that no note had been dispatched to Germany outlining this position and pointed out that inasmuch as a state of war technically exists, no notes could under diplomatic usage be dispatched to that government.

In discussing the situation as affecting France, however, M. Viviani is understood to have taken cognizance of the utterance of administration officials concerning Germany's responsibilities and to have made clear that it would but tend greatly to dispell the possibility of any embarrassment his country might feel especially in the matter of reparations should the United States now declare a separate peace.

The French envoy is also understood to have informed Senator Knox that any such declaration as contained in his resolution introduced in the last congress for terminating the war and stating in substance that the United States would view with grave concern a war involving the peace of Europe would do much to relieve the anxiety of the French people for the future.

M. Viviani tonight was the guest at a dinner given in his honor by members of the board of directors of the Knights of Columbus, who met him in Europe last year during their tour.

Interdenominational Meeting At Tabernacle This Morning

A great interdemominational gathering at the Baptist Tabernacle this morning at 11 o'clock will inaugurate this week in the wide evangelistic campaign being carried on in the churches of the city, all of which report splendid services Sunday. Dr. W. W. Hamilton, of Roanoke, Va., superintendent of evangelism of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist convention, will preside over the Monday morning gathering.

The union services of the Baptists, which have been held each morning at the First Baptist church, and the union Methodist services, held each morning at the Wesley Memorial church, will be deferred Monday for the meeting of all denominations at the Tabernacle.

Services at the First Baptist church Sunday, at which Dr. B. B. Bailey, of Shelbyville, Ky., delivered the sermons, were splendidly attended, and the gospel talks of Dr. Bailey have attracted wide comment and made a deep impression on his hearers. Tuesday morning the joint Baptist services will be resumed at this church. From 10 to 10:30, Dr. J. C. Owen will address the gatherings on personal work; from 10:30 to 11, a special musical service under the supervision of W. P. Martin will be held, and at 11 o'clock Dr. Bailey will resume his series of sermons on "The Great Doctrines of Grace."

A special feature of the services at the First Baptist church Sunday evening was the duet rendered by Solon Drukenmiller, the well-known Atlanta tenor, and Mr. Martin, whose baritone has attracted much comment since his arrival here to direct the singing at this church. There is also a large chorus choir at the First Baptist, which renders special music at each service.

At Wesley Memorial.

Dr. B. F. Fraser, pastor of Wesley Memorial church, reports Sunday as the greatest day in the history of his church, saying that the sermons by Rev. George Stoves, the well-known Methodist pulpit orator of Nashville, Tenn., are bearing great fruit in the form of confessions of faith and additions to the church.

At the Haneville Baptist church, where Dr. E. S. Poole, of Laurel, Miss., is the evangelist, the record number of 32 additions to the church was announced Sunday by the pastor. At this church, it was declared, fully as many were turned away from the doors as attended the service in the packed church auditorium. J. E. Johnston is the singer who is assisting Dr. Poole at Haneville.

Dr. Henry Alford Porter, who is preaching daily to his congregations at the Second Baptist church, also reported large Sunday gatherings, as did Dr. M. Ashby Jones at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church. James W. Jelks is the singer who is assisting Dr. Porter. Dr. T. W. Higgison, of Fort Worth, Texas, talked to three large gatherings Sunday at the Gordon Street Baptist church, his night sermon being on the subject, "The Kingdom of the Devil."

North Avenue Presbyterian.

Dr. Charles F. Myers, of Greensboro, N. C., addressed two large congregations at the North Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday, his morning subject being "Finances," and that at night "Men Who Understand the Times." During the two weeks from April 3 to 14, Dr. Myers will preach each night.

Dr. T. J. Talley, of Waco, Texas, assisted by W. J. Work, also of Waco, the singer, are conducting the services at the Druid Hills Baptist church, and the pastor, Dr. F. C. McConnell, states that the services are being of incalculable aid to the community.

At Grant park, where the services are being held in a large tent, Sunday night saw overflow audiences, who heard inspiring sermons by Dr. Lewis Ensinger. There were 39 additions reported and 75 confessions of faith. Sunday night was observed as Decision day at the Walker Street Methodist church, where Rev. U. S. Strickland, the pastor, preached. Rev. Plato Durham is conducting the splendid services at the Inman Park Methodist church.

The day services at the Inman Park Methodist church will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon during the rest of the campaign, instead of in the morning as heretofore.

Druid Hills Methodist.

Bishop Warren A. Candler delivered the morning sermon at the Druid Hills Methodist church Sunday, and Rev. John S. Yarbrough preached an interesting sermon in the afternoon at 3 o'clock to men only. Rev. Yarbrough also preached at the night service, full houses greeting each of the three services at the Druid Hills church during the day.

Rev. Skelton Williams, of Grantville, is conducting the services at the St. Luke's Methodist church, where the large numbers attending have made it necessary to hold the services in a tent instead of in the church auditorium. The members of St. Luke's will hold daily services each noon during the coming week at the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills.

Rev. W. J. DeBardeleben, pastor of the Payne Memorial Methodist church, announced that 15 accessions to the church through professions of faith were obtained Sunday. The services at this church Sunday night closed their series of meetings. St. Paul's Methodist church reported that 1,000 people attended the Sunday school services in the morning, and that 2,000 attended the night services.

At Baptist Tabernacle.

Capacity congregations attended the revival services Sunday morning and last night at the Baptist tabernacle. Two sermons of dramatic eloquence and power were delivered by Dr. R. W. Thoit, who is an evangelist of the home mission board of the Baptist church.

At the morning service his subject centered around the exhortation found in First Timothy to wage a good warfare for God." He urged the members, first of all, to be sure that they are right with God, and declared that the church is then prepared for a great revival.

The meetings will continue at 7:30 o'clock each night until April 17, except on Saturday, when no services will be held, and Sunday, when there will be two services.

A feature of the meetings is the old-time congregational singing, beautiful song services by the choir and by the "sunbeam choir," composed of little folks. The song services are under the leadership of Prof. D. L. Spooner.

At the request of the congregation, Rev. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church, will continue revival services until next Friday night.

The meetings were scheduled to close last Friday, but were continued through to Sunday, and such spiritual success was attending the meetings that the congregation voted to request that they be continued for another week. Services will begin at 7:45 o'clock each evening.

St. Paul's Tabernacle.

The success of the revival at St. Paul's Methodist church became manifest Sunday, when there were twenty-two additions to the church, bringing the total to thirty for the first week of the meetings.

On Tuesday fifty workers will go out to visit the large number of those who are not members of any church, but expressed preference for the Methodist church in the recent census conducted jointly by the churches of Atlanta.

Rev. W. G. Crawley, the pastor, will preach at each service.

Prof. Ralph Gilliam, of the Atlanta Theological seminary, delivered two impressive sermons Sunday before a large concregation at the Peachtree Road Presbyterian church. Prof. Gilliam's morning sermon was taken from the subject, "The Choice of Life," with the night service on "The Terrible Prayer."

The Peachtree Road Presbyterians, who are co-operating with the various other churches of the city in the great inter-denominational campaign, have been having great crowds at the daily night services, which are being held in a tent. Officials of the meeting stated that the services would be continued daily at 7:30 o'clock during the week and the regular Sunday services throughout the campaign, which will end on the 14th of April. Rev. F. D. Stevenson is pastor.

MORE DATA ASKED ON SITES OFFERED FOR MOOSE HOME

BY M. D. GLEASON.

Letters received during the past few days by members of Atlanta lodge Loyal Order of Moose from Supreme Secretary Rodney H. Brandon request those offering sites for the great Moose home, planned for the south, to furnish the properties available. Mr. Brandon also called attention in his letter to the fact that word has reached his office that there has been some doubt expressed about the Moose locating their big $2,000,000 in the south this year. He stated only those not familiar with the facts would have any doubt on this matter and since the resolution was passed at the last convention at Mooseheart last June to establish a home for the aged and orphans somewhere in the south he has spent the best part of the last eight months inspecting prospective sites, visiting many remote places and enduring much hardship and inconveniences in endeavoring to find the most ideal location. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who is director-general, the highest office in the Moose, also looked over many sites from Texas to Virginia and the supreme council of 22 men spent the entire month of January touring the south, gathering data and looking out for the best interests and welfare of those who may be members of the southern home.

WOMEN TO ENLIST HARDING IN FIGHT ON DISCRIMINATION

Washington, April 3.—President Harding is to receive a delegation of 50 members of the national woman's party Wednesday, who will urge legislation to remove what it is claimed are discriminations against women.

Elsie Hill, temporary chairman of the party, will introduce the speakers.

Senator Curtis, Kansas, has agreed to introduce a bill to remove restrictions against women which apply in the District of Columbia. The women argue that if congress takes the lead similar laws in the states will be more eazily obtainable.

MORE CONFIDENCE FELT BY BUSINESS

outlook is satisfactory; and the banking situation has improved. It is believed that confidence in business circles is slowly spreading and that while there is hesitancy the business men of the country are feeling their way with sound business caution, and the country is working back toward a more stable condition.

"In undertaking to give business men a comprehensive and timely picture of national conditions and public opinion, the Fidelity and Deposit company has once again performed a distinct public service.

"What the survey discloses should be an encouragement to us all to go forward with confidence, though not with recklessness."

More than one thousand representatives of the Fidelity and Deposit company gathered the information contained in the survey. They obtained from bankers, manufacturers, business men and others, answers to a questionnaire covering economic, agricultural, industrial and general conditions. The replies were telegraphed to Baltimore, where they were analyzed and tabulated. The review was made in the same fashion as the company's first survey, published last September.

In preparing the questionnaire economists, lawyers and many men in public life were consulted to make it as complete and comprehensive as possible. Among those who suggested questions were Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Reed Smoot, Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace; his predecessor, E. T. Meredith, and Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior.

Mr. Houston's Comment.

Mr. Houston, formerly secretary of agriculture, and more recently secretary of the treasury, made his comment after a careful study of the survey chart prepared from the telegraphic replies, saying in addition to that quoted above:

"While the survey shows that no section of the country reports a marked increase in industrial activity and that manufacturers, distributors and consumers still are proceeding on a short-time basis, this does not mean that the general industrial situation has not improved. The country is better off today than it was three months ago, and manufacturers in growing numbers are planning definite production schedules.

"But the public is still restricting its buying, and probably will continue to purchase cautiously until retail price reductions become more nearly equal to the reduction in manufacturers' and wholesalers' prices. The maintenance by retailers of a relatively high-price level has been perhaps the chief stumbling block to quickened industrial activity.

Reduced Wages.

"An appreciable reduction in wages is noted in every section and in virtually every kind of industry. The fact that savings accounts have increased in the industrail sections, however, would seem to indicate that in such districts wage and salary reductions have not been as great as the reductions in the prices of commodities, and that therefore, fortunately, the decrease in wages has not necessitated a lowering of the standard of living.

"Except in New England and the Rocky mountain states building operations are increasing. This increase, however, is nowhere sufficient to meet the demand and in every part of the country there is a need for low-priced dwellings. But sentiment is not favorable to building at present prices, and until costs fall to materially lower levels the unfavorable attitude toward building operations on a wider scale will continue.

Credit Situation Better.

"The credit situation is improved. Interest rates range from 6 to 8 per cent for the country as a whole, but banking funds are reported available by every section except the south and Rocky mountain regions. It should be noted in this connection that Federal Reserve banks in the south and west have practically ceased rediscounting with banks in the northeast. Corporate balances everywhere are reported to have decreased, and this is one of the unfavorable aspects of the present situation. Yet it can be partly explained by the fact that the growing purchasing power of the dollar permits a reduction in the size of such accounts.

"The crop outlook is stated to be good everywhere.

"The housing shortage leads as the most important local question in the hundreds of communities covered by the Fidelity and Deposit company's reports. Unemployment is second and taxation third.

Taxation Big Question.

"The big national question, according to the survey is taxation, with peace settlement and international trade conditions next. Taxation is uppermost in the minds of the average man. The country is opposed to the present tax system.

"According to the survey many business men and the western farming interests desire a higher tariff on European commodities. Yet it is difficult to see how, now that we have a large surplus to export and are seeking foreign markets—now that Europe is indebted to us for large and increasing sums—this nation can profit from a higher tariff or desire it; especially when its chief competitor, Europe, is sadly stricken and will take years to recover.

"In the field of domestic taxation, the survey reports that the country is unanimously in favor of the repeal of the excess profits tax. This tax should be repealed. It is difficult of administration; it is cluttering up the administration of the government's tax law; it does not work equitably as among business; and its yield is decreasing.

Survey Favors Sales Tax.

"Obviously a sales tax, reported by the survey to be universally recommended, would be no substitute for an excess profits tax.

"It is astonishing that there should have been a unanimous expression in this survey in favor of a rebate on the federal income and other taxes. I do not believe that any authority on taxation or public finance would for a moment countenance this proposition. The relief sought can and should be secured along the lines of economy in expenditure, and reform of taxation under the most expert guidance that can be obtained, coupled with a genuine and thorough-going budget system."

been a number of efforts to reach agreements, both sides of the controversy seeming willing to meet in conference, but eventually the hope of preventing a strike on the A., B. & A. was dashed upon the rocks by a creditor placing the railroad in the hands of a receiver. Upon the order of the federal court, a wage cut was authorized, and went into effect, as was stated, in order to save the property from disintegration.

The order to cut wages, which was given by Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the United States district court, of Atlanta, was announced as effective March 1, and this was followed by the strike being ordered on the road, which was effective March 5 and which is now completing its fourth week.

The gathering of the general chairmen at this time is also looked upon as significant in view of the fact that the brotherhood chieftains gathered here have offered to call the strike off and return the men to their places, provided they were taken back in a bunch. This proffer was declined by the receiver, Colonel B. L. Bugg, as an officer of the court, after opinions had been handed down by Judge Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, and Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of Atlanta, that the receiver was not bound to discharge the nine hundred men who, it was claimed, came to the aid of the railroad when they were needed most.

OBREGON DEFENDS MEXIC INTENTIONS TO OTHER NATIONS

Mexico City, April 3.—Twelve examples of Mexico's effort to "obtain legitimate prestige among the other nations of the world" were enumerated by President Obregon today in a formal statement given to foreign correspondents.

The president began his statement by declaring that the present regime in Mexico "is fallowing a line of conduct in absolute accord with the precepts of morals and of law, and has initiated this policy with a series of acts which have taken place within the past few months and which will not be interrupted until its noble purposes have been fulfilled."

One of the examples of the policy of the present administration cited by President Obregon was the calling of an extraordinary session of congress, "during which the principal reforms of a legal character will be discussed and promulgated, among these being the regulation of Article 27 of the constitution, in so far as it refers to oil, and which regulations doubtlessly will be based on a broad spirit of equity in which endeavor will be made not to make its dictates confiscatory nor to give it a retroactive interpretation."

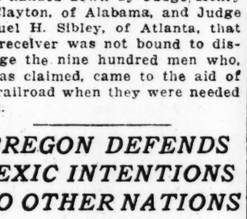

Regarding Mexico's foreign debt, the president's statement said:

"An invitation has been extended to all holders of our exterior debts asking them to appoint their representatives and enter into arrangements with the government concerning all its debts, upon the basis that this government will not use any subterfuge or evasions, but, on the contrary, will base its settlements upon an ample spirit of equity, such as has served heretofore as the standard for all its acts, until they be completely satisfied."

GREEKS DEFEATED, SAYS TURK CHIEF

Communique From Commander's Headquarters Declares Battle of Eski-Shehr Lost to Greeks.

Constantinople, April 3.—The Greeks have been completely defeated by the Turks in the battle at Eski-Shehr, says a communication issued by the headquarters of Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish nationalist leader.

A Turkish communique dated April 1 says that the battle on the Eski-Shehr front, lasting nine days, has been concluded, Biledjik being recaptured and the Greeks retreating in the direction of Brusa.

The Greeks declare that there has been a renewal of the fighting on the Eski-Shehr front.

Constantinople, April 3.—The allies will refuse the Greeks permission to transport their troops in Thrace to the battle front in Asia Minor by way of Constantinople, or to use the Ismid railway.

The Italians have protested that a Greek patrol has held up the steamer Cleopatra in the Black sea. The allies have informed the Greeks that they must not blockade the sea.

The Greeks are reinforcing their army. They now have three new divisions in Moudania, with which to endeavor to overcome the Turk victory. The entire Greek merchant marine has been mobilized as transports, and it is expected the Greeks will be able to put an army of 200,000 in the field. The size of this army is being viewed with alarm by the Serbians and Bulgarians.

While the Greeks are silent or are making denials, the Turks continue to send out communications of victories.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the nationalist leader, has issued a manifesto saying: "This is the last war for the preservation of the empire. Every Turk must enroll or be executed as a traitor."

MANY GREEK WOUNDED.

Brusa, Asia Minor, April 3.—Many hundreds of Greek wounded are being brought here; the total number is not known. Nor is it confirmed that the Turks have captured two Greek divisions, as claimed.

The narrow gauge railroad between Mudania and Brusa is cluttered with great quantities of materials and incoming troops. The city is relatively quiet.

The country has been revived by rains with the awakening of spring, and peasants are seen working in the fields, kissing the earth and thanking Allah for the blessed rain and also praying for peace and the riddance from the hands of the soldiers marching across to a new war.

WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE; PHYSICIANS SAVE LIFE

Mrs. A. E. N. Owen, 24 years old, of 137 Lee street, was taken to Grady hospital Sunday night after attempting to commit suicide by taking bichloride of mercury, according to reports from hospital authorities. Business worries are said to have been the cause of the act.

Doctors at the hospital stated that the poison was counteracted by treatment, after which the patient was permitted to return to her home.

Son of Princess To Wed Princess And Live in U.S.

Athens, April 3.—William B. Leeds, son of Princess Anastasia of Greece, who arrived here a few days ago by airplane to visit his mother, who is ill, has become engaged to Princess Xenia, the 17-year-old second daughter of Grand Duchess Marie and niece of King Constantine, it was learned today. The marriage will take place in June, probably in Athens, but the young couple plan to reside in America.

Young Leeds proposed the day after his arrival, it is understood, and was immediately accepted. Princess Anastasia, who still is seriously ill, was upset by the news and opposed the union at first, on account of her son's youth, but finally gave her consent.

Leeds, who is 19, is proceeding to London to obtain a new wardrobe, and will return to Athens in a fortnight.

IRISH SITUATION IS MORE HOPEFUL

Dublin Sees Prospect for Early End to Troubles of the Distracted Island.

Dublin, April 3.—The opinion was expressed today by competent observers that the Irish situation had undergone a considerable change for the better since St. Patrick's day. A month ago Dublin derided the peace prospects, but today predictions that there will be a settlement of the controversy in the near future are universal. Lloyds declined to accept bets offered during the week that peace will be brought about before August.

Outwardly conditions have not improved. There has been no cessation of warfare in any part of the disturbed districts, and the trouble is spreading to Ulster.

Factors serving to stimulate the optimistic view of the situation are the frank admission of Premier Lloyd-George of the government's failure to solve the Irish problem; the appointment of a Catholic viceroy; Eamonn DeValera latest pronouncements, which are interpreted as showing the willingness of the Sinn Fein for what is deemed a reasonable compromise; England's internal troubles, which are declared to be intensified by the coal strike; the repudiation of the partition act by Southern Ireland; the admitted difficulty of establishing the Ulster parliament; the significance attached in Ireland to the report of the American committee of one hundred; President Harding's reported endorsing of the American relief committee's campaign, and a rumor that United States Senator Kenyon is coming to Ireland as President Harding's representative to make an investigation.

Many Seek Truce.

Government circles do not conceal their anxiety over the prospect that the Sinn Fein will sweep southern Ireland and win an overwhelming majority of the seats in the southern parliament. With the nationalists and Sinn Feiners co-operating in the north, the task of establishing the Ulster parliament is recognized as fraught with political hazards. Many persons continue to express the belief that the government will abandon its attempt to establish the parliament and endeavor to arrange a truce before the date of the elections.

It is confidently asserted here that the Sinn Fein would be willing to negotiate peace on the basis of a status of full dominion. A rumor that the Dail Eireann has appointed a committee to negotiate with former enemy countries is denied.

BRITISH WORKERS TO FORCE ISSUE

Triple Alliance and Radicals Forming Plans for Finish Fight on Capitalism.

BY A. E. JOHNSON,
United News Staff Correspondent.

London, April 3.—The triple alliance—miners, railway workers, transport men—are united in their determination to force this labor war to a conclusion. It will mean, they declare, either the nationalization of industry, which is the chief aim of British unionism, or the smash-up of organized labor.

The United News is reliably informed that far from considering the miners' strike a purely localized movement, radical leaders behind the action regard the outcome as vital to the very soul of trades unionism. And this idea, spread broadcast through the ranks of the building, engineering and shipbuilding trades, is already having its effect. All organized labor is restless and ready to follow extremist advice.

The national policies of the triple alliance were being formulated at an unofficial conference of radical leaders Sunday. They will be placed before the transport workers' session on Monday, and probably will be adopted without serious attempt to compromise on Tuesday when the national councils meet.

Unions Are Agitated.

Speeches and circulars are already having their effect on other trades. "We meet to defend ourselves against attacks on the federation of British industries," say circulars sent out to the building trades unions.

It is increasingly evident, therefore, that the rank and file are aroused to the belief that they must stake their very existence to back up the policy of resistance to coming wage reductions.

The situation involves not only all labor, but the government. It is the most serious crisis that has arisen since the declaration of war against Germany.

The three parties to the dispute were standing firmly by their declaration of policies throughout the week-end. Miners, operators and government were pledged to an uncompromising attitude, and no parleys were held by the conflicting groups.

Damage to Mines.

In the meantime, reports of great damage began to come in from districts where the mines have been left ungarded and unprotected. Water has flooded many of them, rendering some useless for months and completely ruining others. The three days of the strike have already cost Great Britain millions of pounds.

The situation in the valuable Yorkshire district is described as critical. A majority of the pumpmen, after week-end conferences, joined the strikers, and the operators were forced to send a frantic appeal to the government for volunteer maintenance forces.

Scottish mines in Fifeshire were reported completely destroyed. Two of the most valuable pits have been forever wrecked.

In Wales the radicals have finally forced out the remainder of the non-strikers, and numerous riots and disorders are reported.

The board of trade has formulated additional restrictions on the use of gas and electricity, which is to be cut down 50 per cent in each case. Domestic consumption of coal is limited to 100 pounds a week per family and all electric signs are to be discontinued at once. Superfluous street lighting is to go, and the widest curtailment and retrenchment is ordered in all industry.

Train schedules are reduced 20 per cent, and will be further reduced later.

To add to the public's troubles, the gas workers at Southend struck without announcement, leaving thousands of people without heat, light or method of cooking food. They are accordingly subsisting on canned goods and lighting themselves by candles.

This action is but symptomatic of the general nervousness of labor generally. The adoption of daylight saving time, which went into effect Sunday is, however, one relieving touch to the situation, for it will mean the saving of a vast amount of coal.

By act of the board of trade, under the emergency powers granted by the measure of 1920, municipal and county authorities are to administer coal regulations, to take possession of stocks of fuel, and to allocate these supplies.

College Students Plan to Discuss Problems of Day

Form Intercollegiate Liberal League at Meeting at Harvard.

Cambridge, Mass., April 3.—The Intercollegiate Liberal league, an organization which, through liberal clubs in colleges and universities, plans to "create among college men and women an intelligent interest in the problems of the day," was organized at Harvard university today by 250 students representing 27 educational institutions.

In announcing its purpose the league said it proposed "to bring about the fair and open-minded consideration of social, industrial, political and international questions by groups of college students."

"The organization will espouse no creed or principle other than that of complete freedom of assembly and discussion in the colleges," the announcement added.

Speakers at Meet.

Among those who addressed the delegates were John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community church, New York city; Augustus G. Dill, editor of The Crisis, and Harry W. Laidler, executive secretary of the Intercollegiate Socialist society.

Dr. Holmes told the students that "the way to amount to something" was to identify themselves "to the limit with the labor world," and to preach "the gospel of free soul and of love and freedom as the rule of life."

Asserting that the "long years of evolution are gone and the period of revolution is here," Dr. Holmes continued:

Crisis on Threshold.

"The world of labor has made up its mind and there is nothing more to be said. The crisis, in other words, is right here on the threshold.

"Labor is sometimes wrong in many specific issues. Labor at the present time has a false answer to many questions. Labor is using means which I cannot approve of, but fundamentally from the standpoint of dreams and visions of the ages and from the trying necessities of human life, labor is right and has got to be supported by all those who hope and dream and would give their lives for a better world.

"Here in America we have more time and opportunity than in any other country of the world because the revolution will be longer delayed here than anywhere else. We can use this time and opportunity to prepare and if we thus succeed as liberals, there will be a revolution in this country which will, indeed, at last be the commonwealth of man upon earth."

The officers of the league, elected today, are: Muriel Morris, Wellesley, president; Donald Mazor, Columbia, and George O. Arkin, New York university, vice presidents; John Rothschild, Harvard, secretary; Mary Switzer, Radcliffe, executive secretary.

Dorothea's Romance
Chapter IX. The Picnic

It was Sunday morning—a glorious golden and blue day. Dorothea took a long, luxurious breath. "What a gorgeous day," she said. "Anne, let's get some of the folks together for a picnic. It's a crime to stay indoors on a day like this!"

I agreed enthusiastically. "Let's ask—Jimmy Kimball, of course, and his sister and her husband and the nice boy who is visiting them. That will just about fill the car. You call them, while I see what I can find to eat."

"They're all going," reported Dorothea, a bit later. "Jimmy knows a wonderful place where there's a big lake and canoes and 'everything'."

What a wonderful day we did have! All afternoon, we paddled around, sometimes in the warm, sunshiny center of the lake, sometimes hugging the shady banks. As we finished our picnic supper, Jimmy Kimball's sister said admiringly "Dorothea, how do you keep such a marvelous complexion? A day in the open like this just about ruins mine. But there you are, as freshly powdered and unsunburned as you were this morning." Dorothea smiled knowingly. "It's a secret—I'll tell you, when there aren't so many curious men around."

But I knew the secret! Dorothea uses Magnolia Balm—a wonderful liquid powder and lotion combined. It not only powders the skin but keeps it soft and free from blemishes. And it is so easy and refreshing to use—and not a bit sticky. It comes in pink, white, brunette and rose-red—for 75c a bottle. At most all drug stores or direct from the Lyon Mfg. Co. (45 S. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.).

No wonder Jimmy looked at Dorothea so admiringly. She seemed like a wonderful soft-petaled rose. And Jimmy does admire a pretty complexion. You can't tell me love is blind!

NeufandZimmer, FreedAmericans, Now in Coblenz

Coblenz, April 3.—Carl Neuf and Frank Zimmer, the Americans who recently were released from prison in Baden, where they had been confined for their part in the attempt to arrest Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, arrived here this morning. They refused to talk concerning the situation, except to say that they had been fairly treated by the German officials and the German courts.

Paris, April 3.—Carl Neuf and Frank Zimmer, American detectives, who were convicted at Mosbach, Baden, on charges growing out of their action in attempting to capture Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, have joined the American forces at Coblenz, according to a Havas dispatch received here from Carlsruhe. It is understood that the American government has agreed to pay indemnity to the girl who was wounded by a shot fired by one of the Americans in an effort to stop the automobile in which Bergdoll fled.

OGLE IS CHARGED WITH RANSACKING TRUNK OF WOMAN

William Ogle, 19 years old, of 390 Whitehall street, was arrested in a room at the same residence Sunday, charged with ransacking a trunk belonging to a young woman.

According to Patrolman P. Daley, who made the arrest, Ogle is said to have explained that he was looking for a diamond ring, thought to have been left in the trunk by the young woman upon leaving the house. Patrolman Daley also stated that Ogle admitted being guilty of committing four robberies during the past few days. However, on being cross-examined by detectives at headquarters, he is said to have denied making the confession.

The case was reported by W. G. Brown, of the same address, who, it is said, was a witness to the attempted robbery.

POWDER CAR BLAST DOES WIDE DAMAGE

One Man Injured, Freight Cars Shattered, Water Tanks Capsized and Many Windows Broken.

Fredericksburg, Va., April 3.—Explosion of a carload of black powder attached to a freight train late today caused great excitement in the community. One man was injured, several freight cars were shattered by the blast and others with their contents were burned.

Two railroad water tanks were blown over and widespread damage was done throughout the city in broken windows.

Cause of the explosion had not been determined at a late hour today. A wrecking train was ordered to clear up the debris.

INDUSTRIAL TOUR FOR GREATER TECH

noon, the party is expected to follow a schedule embracing all of the South Georgia towns of importance, and reaching Savannah on the morning of April 7. From Savannah, the tour will take a northern direction embracing all the cities of North Georgia, and finally arriving in Atlanta Saturday night.

The tour is considered as the greatest step taken in recent years in the direction of industrial and educational development, and is expected to produce far-reaching results in the $5,000,000 campaign now being carried on in the state and throughout the United States in behalf of greater educational facilities for the Georgia School of Technology. Members of the executive committee of the campaign have expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the indications of the success of the drive, which is the largest of its kind ever attempted by any southern institution.

BILL STROTHERS PROMISES THRILLS IN CLIMB TONIGHT

Bill Strothers, noted "human spider," who lived to tell his sensations after his performance of climbing one of Atlanta's skyscrapers Friday night, stated that he would give the public something new in the way of a thrill Monday night, when he will take a trip up the Winecoff hotel at 8 o'clock, instead of the previous announcement of 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

BILL STROTHERS

Bill explained the reason of the change of hour was due to a request made by Chief Beavers, who stated that the "spider" drew such large crowds until traffic would most likely be blocked, which would act to delay numbers of working people returning to their homes at the time.

Bill refused to state the exact details of the thrill he had in mind for the public, but intimated that he would climb the hotel building blind-folded.

The indigent unemployed of Switzerland are delt with as an economic question. The Swiss act on the theory that a man who is unemployed is, if left to himself, prone to become unemployable, and that for a community to permit any one of its members who is capable of work to remain unemployed is a public waste.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL FOR MURDERED DEAN

Victim of Syracuse Tragedy to Be Given Expression of Public Respect.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 3.—David G. Holmes, of East Orange, N. J., uncle of Professor Holmes Beckwith, who crazed by fancied grievances, on Saturday killed Dean John Wharton, head of the college of business administration, Syracuse university, and then killed himself, today took charge of the body and property of his nephew. Mr. Holmes called on Chancellor James R. Day and expressed sympathy and regret for his nephew's act.

While the body of Beckwith rested in an undertaker's chapel, where brief and simple funeral services were read in the presence of relatives and friends, arrangements were made to make the funeral of Dean Wharton an impressive demonstation of public sympathy and respect. It will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Holmes who is president of the Utility Company of New York, stated he believed the motive for the killing of Dean Wharton was a "protest against the existing social order," rather than the outgrowth of personal animosity. "I am satified that the act was directed against a world which Professor Beckwith believed had been unjust to him," said Mr. Holmes, "not against Dean Wharton as an individual. The letters clearly indicate that."

Physicians specializing in mental disorders stated today that the professor's inability to see "the other side of the case" in any of his difficulties indicated a hopelessly biased mentality that never could adjust itself to every-day life. Beckwith's letters, they said, indicated clearly the existence of an "exaggerated ego."

CONGRESS TO RUSH TAXATION BILLS

Tariff Measures Also to Have Right of Way at Special Session Next Week.

Washington, April 3.—Tariff and taxation are to have right of way in the special session of congress which convenes April 11.

Leaders expect to enact the Fordney emergency tariff bill, vetoed by President Wilson at the last session, without delay. The anti-dumping and American valuation measures may be made a part of it, so there will be one bill instead of three. This, it is argued, would make for speed.

Then attention will be given to tax revision, and enactment of a permanent tariff. Measures will be ready for consideration of congress by August, according to Senator Penrose. The permanent tariff will greatly increase duties. On the question of taxation there is agreement that the excess profits tax shall be elliminated, and surtaxes lowered to the "collection point."

What new taxes will be devised remains uncertain, and the question promises to be one on which there will be much debate. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is compiling suggestions on tax measures for the information of leaders.

Other important domestic legislation includes passage of the army and navy appropriation bills, which failed at the last session. A fight is in prospect on both. The army bill will involve debate on the size of the army. The navy bill, providing for continuation of the 1916 construction program, will meet hostility from advocates of armament limitation, and from those who believe it is a waste of money to construct capital ships because of the development of aerial and submarine warfare.

Immigration restriction is again to be considered as well as the soldier bonus bill, and federal regulation of the coal mining and meat packing industries.

The debate over peace promises to revive in the senate, with much of the vigor that characterized the long struggle which led to rejection of the Versailles treaty. Senator Knox is to re-introduce his peace resolution, and this will, of course, provoke a storm of debate from friends of the treaty and league.

Coupled with this will be an attempt to have alien property, sequestered during the war, returned to its owners. Some $425,000,000 worth of securities and property remains in the hands of the alien property custodian.

Its return will be opposed by those who argue it should be held as a guarantee that Germany will pay American war claims, amounting to $250,000,000. Germany owes an amount equal to this for maintaining the American army on the Rhine, on payment of which congress will insist.

It is likely a definite arrangement on allied loans will be made during the session. Consent of congress will be required to any funding scheme, or arrangement for deferred payments.

Advice for Young Girls

Roanoke, Va.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an excellent medicine to give young girls who suffer. One of my daughters has been very delicate for some time, suffered with functional disturbances, and every winter would be sick and I would have to have the doctor for her. She would be weak and nervous. Last winter a friend advised her taking 'Favorite Prescription' and it has done her a world of good. She is in better health than ever before. I would advise mothers not to let their girls suffer, give them the Prescription."—MRS. SARAH E. HAYNES, 1514 Loudon Ave., N. W. All druggists.

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and sleepy. I work in a millinery shop and I went to work everyday, but felt stupid and would have such cramps. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about it and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments."—STELLA LINXWILER, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind.

Some girls lead lives of luxury, while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical laws and suffer in proportion to their violation. When such symptoms develop as irregularities, headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations and "the blues," girls should profit by Miss Linxwiler's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Karl to Bide Time Before New Trial To Regain Throne

Return Merely Postponed, Says Hungarian Minister to France.

By HUDSON HAWLEY.
United News Staff Correspondent.

Paris, April 3.—Return of former Emperor Charles to the Hungarain throne is merely postponed, and its possibilities are far from abandoned, as a result of the fiasco of last week, in the opinion of Count Praznovsky, the Hungarian minister of France.

Despite the fact that Charles is now reported to have signed an agreement accepting the control of the present regime of Admiral Horthy, Praznovsky believes that Charles will ultimately return to the throne. Hungary is now a kingdom without a king, and in an interview with the United News, Praznovsky declared that when the country chooses a king, the chances are ten to one that he will be Charles.

Admiral Horthy and Premier Teleki, it is believed, persuaded Charles that his immediate resumption of the throne would be precarious, in that it would likely result in action against Hungary by neighboring states.

It appears also that the protest of the entente was more effective, than French officials believed it might be, in that it raised the specter of general economic and political isolation at a time when Hungary is most in need of aid from other powers.

The ministers of the present government also advised Charles against endeavoring so simple a thing as maintaining his residence in Hungary at this time, owing to the fear that his adherents might start trouble, even though Charles chose to live quietly.

Minister Praznovsky took the position that Charles is the only legal monarch of Hungary. The selection of any other, he believes, would bring hopeless confusion.

"Charles has the confidence of a majority of the people," Praznovsky declared. "The refusal to permit his return was due to fear of immediate consequences rather than to any lack of popularity."

Latest reports are that Charles will go to a villa near Lucerne upon returning to Switzerland. His former refuge, near Geneva, is closed to him. It is understood that the former is leaving Hungary under safe conduct granted through the Spanish ambassador, and that Charles is accompanied by the Bourbon Prince Sixte.

Representatives of the allied powers in Budapest meantime have congratulated Admiral Horthy and the Hungarian government on the firmness displayed in meeting the problem raised by Charles, and upon the government's complete success.

The Hungarian legation believes Charles left Steinamanger Saturday for Lucerne. In the absence of official word from Budapest, it is believed the route taken by Charles is being kept secret to avoid any possible trouble. The source from which Charles divined French support is still a mystery. Numerous rumors are afloat, some of them mentioning the Queen of Roumania and a French general of royalist connections as having hinted to Charles that it might be safe for him to risk an attempt to regain his throne.

A Budapest dispatch to Le Temps declares that Charles was to leave for Switzerland Sunday, and that Austria has granted him safe conduct through that country.

Troop 23 Wins Field Meet By Margin of Single Point

Troop 23 Boy Scouts won the district four field meet held at Grant park Saturday afternoon by one point. They scored a total of 23 points and as a result of their victor ywill be the district four representatives in the city-wide field meet to be held on April 23 at Piedmont park. Samuel Dreyfoos is scoutmaster of troop 23.

Troop 27 was congratulated for their fine record and for the fact they came so near winning the meet. Scoutmaster McGlamery has been training his scouts for weeks for the meet.

Ten troops competed in the meet and some excellent work was done. No records were broken, however. The troops that participated were as follows: 23, 27, 2, 24, 22, 1 East Lake, 28, 35 and 36.

On April 23 the winners of the four district meets will compete at Piedmont for the city-wide championship. This meet will produce a double distinction. The troop winning first place will be known as the first troop of the Atlanta council and will have first place in all its activities and honors until another troop has won from them. In addition, they will give their district the honor of being the first scout district of Atlanta and it will have its troops first in parades and the like.

Associate Executive Roland L. Shine was in charge of the meet Saturday and was assisted by Scoutmaster Welch Geeslin and Eagle Scout Jack Wilkins, of troop 15.

The final results were as follows: First, troop 23, 23 points; second, troop 27, 22 points; third, troop 2, 18 points; fourth, troop 24, 9 points; fifth, troop 4, 8 points; sixth, troop 22, 7 points; seventh, troop 1 East Lake, 5 points; eighth, troops 28 and 25, 3 points each; ninth, troop 36, 1 point.

The results by events were as follows:

Scout Troops Meet Tuesday.

Troop 19, Scoutmaster A. H. Thomas leading, and troop 2 Decatur, headed by Scoutmaster Milton A. Candler will battle for the championship of district 2 tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on Candler scout field, Decatur. The winner will represent the district in the contests for the city championship of Boy Scout troops to be held later this month. Troop 19 a week ago shattered three state records by wide margins.

March proved to be one of the most active months in the history of scoutcraft in this city, when more than 30 troops took part in four championship meets. Scouts to the number of 1,412 passed tests during the month, breaking the best previous month record by 223, and troop 7 under Scoutmaster W. A. Means headed the list, with 141 tests passed during the month. The troop is connected with the Church of the Incarnation, and is in district 3.

So heavily has this expansion of the scout movement pressed on the time of the court of honor, which, since its organization 14 months ago, has increased the number of first-class scouts from 16 to 135, that it has been necessary to reorganize the court. Its membership will be doubled to 16 members, and it will sit in two relays, probably once a week. The court has held more than 400 examinations for advancement, and has created two Eagle scouts, the highest rung of the scout ladder, these boys being Jack Wilkins, of troop 15, and John Young, of troop 9. The court plans to attend at least one day in every session of Camp Friendly this summer, to hold examinations at the camp. The members of the court are Colonel E. E. Comeroy, president; Roland L. Shine, secretary; L. A. Addison, Julian Boehm, Forress B. Fisher, Kendall Weisiger, J. Russell Porter and Dr. Floyd W. McRae, Jr.

In preparation for the summer's outing at Camp Friendly, Boy Scouts will be allowed the use of the large swimming tank at the Young Men's Christian association building on the first Wednesday afternoon of every month, when experts will be on hand between 2 and 4 o'clock to teach the boys to care for themselves in the water. Mr. Shine, Eagle Scouts James Lemay, Jack Williams and John Young, and a corps of lifeguards, will superintend the swimming. Another period of swimming instruction is held for scouts every Monday afternoon. At these classes, 50 boys have learned to swim, 125 have become experts, 28 have won merit badges for swimming and 13 have earned life saving badges. Practically every Boy Scout in Atlanta has now learned to feel at home in the water.

Instruction in nature study and outdoor work, preliminary to the classes planned for Camp Friendly, is being pursued with the aid of the scout library at headquarters, in the chamber of commerce rooms, where Miss Mary Mathews has built up a sizeable library of boys' books. The nucleus came from a gift of 500 volumes from Mrs. George McKenzie, and in two years this original collection has been greatly augmented. The books range in subject from outdoor adventure to simple explanation of electrical and mechanical principles and from a study of birds to the American Boys' Hand Books, of which Dan Beard, the dean of Boy Scouts, is the author.

THREE ARE HELD IN MINER MURDER

Death of John Bivins, Alabama Miner, Leads to the Arrest of Three Leaders.

Birmingham, Ala., April 3.—Three men were lodged in the county jail here today charged with the murder of John Bivins, a union miner, near Labuco, this county, Saturday night.

They are Dan Lattimer, W. T. Milligan and W. B. Nevell, all of Flat Creek. Lattimer and Nevell are presidents of local mine unions and Milligan is a union miner. The men were arrested on information furnished by Wick Ware, age 21, who was with Bivins at the time he was shot. According to his story, Bivins was on his way home, walking on the railroad track, when accosted by the three men and words followed because Bivins had continued at work at the mines. The three men opened fire and Bivins was shot in the shoulder and arm. He ran down the track as other shots were fired, one bullet taking effect in the head and another in the back.

The shooting followed closely upon a union mass meeting which had been held during the evening at which Lattimer and Nevell were both speakers.

Expect Publication Stillman Divorce Testimony Today

White Plains, N. Y., April 3.—Publication of letters and testimony in the divorce proceedings instituted by James A. Stillman, president of the National City bank of New York, against his wife, Anna U. Stillman, is expected here when Supreme Court Justice Morschauser re-opens the case tomorrow to issue an order putting into effect his recent decision fixing alimony of $7,500 monthly and counsel fees of $50,000 for Mrs. Stillman.

Mr. Stillman's counsel have announced their intention of appealing from the decision, and lawyers here point out that such procedure would result in the publication of the affidavits and other testimony, including the alleged "confession" letter Mrs. Stillman is said to have written. In the case of an appeal, it is necessary that copies of the documents be printed for inspection of the court, attorneys and other interested parties.

The action to appeal is taken as counsel's effort to have admitted Mrs. Stillman's letter, and others alleged to have been written to her by Fred Beauvais, co-respondent in the suit, and to fight the fees allowed by the judge, which, they declare, are excessive.

DEFENSE TO MOVE FOR DISCHARGES IN EXPRESS CASE

Macon, Ga., April 3.—The trial of forty-six persons accused of conspiracy in connection with thefts of a million dollars' worth of property from the American Railway Express company during the period of government control will enter its fourth week tomorrow. The jury has been in custody of officers of the federal court day and night since the trial began.

Lawyers for the defense stated today that there will be a number of motions tomorrow for the discharge of certain defendants, which will be offered as soon as the government concludes its rebuttal of the defense's evidence.

Arguments have been limited to twelve hours on a side. Assistant District-Attorney E. Clem Powers will open for the government and nearly a score of lawyers will speak for the defense. District Attorney John W. Bennett will make the closing argument for the government, a five-hour address. Both sides expect the case to go to the jury by Thursday or Friday.

Democratic Chief Dies.

Chicago, April 3.—John F. O'Malley, former state senator and successor of Roger Sullivan as democratic chief of Chicago, died today after an emergency operation for a tumor had proved unsuccessful. He was 59 years old.

Officers Puzzled By Two Sentences Imposed on Fife

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 3.—When a jury in the Polk county law court at Ducktown sentenced Charlie Fife to ninety-nine years in the penitentiary for killing one man and then turned around and sentenced him to be electrocuted for killing another on the same occasion, a new question of law was raised that it will probably require the State supreme court to decide.

Fife was first convicted of killing Joe Tipton, a prominent farmer of Farner, Tenn., at whose home Fife's wife had taken refuge when he threatened her life, and in the second instance he was found guilty of slaying Carl Henry, Tipton's son-in-law, who was attempting to place the dead man on a bed when shot. Although fatalyl wounded himself, Henry managed to wing Fife when he was trying to escape, filling his body with shot. Henry died a short time later. Whether Fife should be imprisoned or electrocuted is now a question bothering the Polk county officers.

JITNEYS TO FIGHT SAVANNAH RULING

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) Savannah's city council, after a long wrestle with the jitney line question, has ordered that the "jits" shall, after April 15, ply their trade only on streets along which trolley lines are not operated. The jitney drivers' association has employed counsel and it is said, will fight the ordinance which takes them off their old lines before the expiration of the licenses for which they have paid.

Apparatus to furnish warm, dry and sterilized air to the lungs has been invented by an English doctor, who believes insomnia can be cured by lessening their moisture.

Much Activity At Savannah Port; New Connections

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) Officials of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Steamship line are spending several days in Savannah. They recently made this port a port of call for their vessels plying between Pacific and the eastern Atlantic points. The Liberator, here some days ago, brought a great cargo of canned salmon and other canned fish to Savannah for distribution from this point, and it also brought carloads of lemons. The Charles H. Cramp, due here from a California point in a few days, will bring a cargo consisting largely of California fruits. The West Haven is to sail from Oregon in a few days, to touch at Savannah, loaded with Oregon pine shingles. The company expects to build up a big business here.

Other shipping news of interest is keeping the port activity before the country. The British steamship Argalia is in port on a unique trip. Coming from Tampa to Savannah, it will make the entire sweep of the Atlantic seaboard, touching finally at Portland, Me., before sailing for England. It is of the Donaldson line. Rarely does a vessel touch at such widely separated ports of call.

It was announced today also that H. M. S. Constance, a British cruiser, will arrive in the port of Savannah about April 20. Colonel Brookfield, consul here, stated that the visit of the fine specimen of the British later types of fighting craft—for a stay here of nearly a week—is an unofficial call.

ACWORTH FARM LOAN BODY DOES FINE WORK

Acworth, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) The Acworth Federal Farm Loan association, which was organized about three years ago and functioned until the act authorizing farm loan banks was held up for a few months, is now proving a blessing to the farmers of this section. The act has been held constitutional by the supreme court and thousands of dollars are now being borrowed by farmers of this section through the Acworth association.

These farmers are borrowing amounts varying from $100 to $5,000 at 6 per cent, and on long term—from five to forty years. By being able to borrow this money, farmers are not only able to relieve their financial obligations, but to put thousands of dollars in circulation in the community.

GOOD-WILL PLEDGE GRATIFIES FRANCE

Hughes' Note Received With Jubilation and Papers Urge Better Co-operation.

Paris, April 3.—The French press and public received with jubilation the news of the note of Secretary of State Hughes reaffirming America's adherence to the cause of the allies, and notifying Germany that Germany would be held to full responsibility for the war, and her reparation obligations.

Editions of Sunday newspapers carried enthusiastic editorials, acclaiming the American pronouncement.

"The United States has furnished an important pledge of good will," The Petit Parisian declares. "We will willingly wait until American opinion crystallizes and understands that it is not safe for America to remain outside the treaties ending the war."

Avenir declares: "The United States should complete their splendid work in the war by collaborating with the well-intentioned people, who, because of their victory, are charged with maintaining and organizing peace. We invite them to collaborate."

Le Matin, the paper of Stephen Lauzanne, who is now in the United States with Rene Viviani, demands that the French foreign office hasten the solution of the cable question, which has long been under discussion. Le Matin blames the council of the league of nations for the disposition of mandates to which the United States has objected, and demands that this also be settled before President Harding is consulted.

"The affection of peoples is founded upon reciprocity," the editorial declares. "It is impossible for us to demand everything and give nothing."

Great satisfaction was also expressed by the newspapers over reports that Myron T. Herrick is likely to return to Paris as the American ambassador.

CO-OPERATIVE SYRUP MILL, ACWORTH PLAN

Acworth, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) At a recent meeting of the Acworth farmers' and merchants' board of trade, final plans were perfected for building a large co-operative syrup mill here. This will furnish farmers of this section a ready cash market for any amount of syrup cane they may plant, and a great deal of land heretofore planted in cotton will be used for cane and sweet potatoes.

A number of co-operative sweet potato curing houses are being built in and in the vicinity of Acworth. A great deal more corn is being planted in this section this year than ever before. Since the Acworth Drainage association completed a large drainage project near here a few years ago, several thousand acres of the best bottom land have been reclaimed and produce an enormous amount of corn annually.

Says Girl Killed Self When Lover Delayed Wedding

Corunna, Mich., April 3.—That Lucy Whittum, 19-year-old Durand girl, took her life when told their marriage was to be delayed last Wednesday night, was the statement made to Shiawasse county authorities today by Forrest Higgins, 22, who is held here on a charge of murder in connection with the girl's death, according to R. E. Mathews prosecutor.

Higgins and Miss Whittum had met at their favorite trysting place, he said, and he had told her that their planned elopement would have to be delayed, when the girl became dejected, thinking his interest in her had waned.

"In the clearness of the night, just after I had climbed the fence near our favorite meeting place, I could see her place a bottle to her lips." Higgins was quoted. "I ran to her side and knocked the bottle from her hands, but before I could kick it beyond her reach she had picked it up and drained its contents. In another instant she had fallen to the ground, face downward. I felt her still, warm body, and, satisfied she was dead, ran home."

Higgins declared he was convinced suspicion would rest upon him had he reported the affair to the police, and that fear of the consequences impelled him to run from the scene without offering assistance to the girl.

She was found, still alive, it was said, some time later, by the crew of a passing train. County authorities declared that had medical aid been obtained earlier, death might have been averted.

Prosecutor Mathews declined to say tonight what effect Higgins' statement would have on the investigation. His arraignment had been set for tomorrow.

ARREST OF GALE ORDERED BY OBREGON

Mexico City, April 3.—The arrest here on Thursday night of Linn A. Gale, American radical and editor of The International Monthly, was made at the personal direction of President Obregon, it was stated today.

The president, in a formal statement, declared that he is determined to "stamp out the so-called bolshevism in Mexico, and the clean-up of radicals has started."

"Gale is the first," he said, "and the arrest of others probably will follow."

WOULD MAKE SCHOOLS COMMUNITY CENTERS

Washington, April 3.—Use of the public schools as community centers, especially for voting and for pre-election assembly of citizens, will be considered at a two days' session here beginning the evening of April 21 of the national conference on the community center, called by Dr. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education. Among those who it was announced tonight would address the sessions are Postmaster General Hayes, Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal physician to President Harding; Dr. Frank B. Gilbert, acting commissioner of education of New York, and Walter Tyler Page, clerk of the house.

FARM AND LABOR BODIES TO MEET

Will Hold Conference to Frame Program of National Legislation—Expect Many Delegates.

Washington, April 3.—A conference of farmer and labor organizations will be held here April 14 and 15 to frame a program of national legislation, it was announced tonight by the People's Reconstruction league. This will be a different meeting from that of the farm organizations previously announced for April 14 to agree on a program to be asked of congress, it was asserted.

Eight of the railway brotherhoods, eleven international labor unions, six state federations of labor, the Washington state grange and the North Carolina Farmers' union have already agreed to send delegates to the conference, it was declared. Delegates are expected from twenty-eight states.

The conference will discuss the railroad situation, federal taxation, packer control legislation and short time rural credits, it was announced.

Farm and labor forces can work together "for a national legislative program in the interests of the general public, of which farmers and organized labor constitute a large majority, President Baker, of the league, said, adding that "no cry of 'class legislation' can be raised against such a program."

Many of the subjects to come before the farmer-labor conference are also expected to be discussed by the other farm organizations at their "get-together meeting."

Whether any effort would be made to have the two conferences join forces was not known here tonight.

Report by Legion On Soldiers' Care Raps Government

New York, April 3.—Severe criticism of the government departments which have to do with the care and compensation of disabled soldiers characterized a comprehensive report made public here today by the American Legion investigating committee, which, for the past several weeks, has been engaged in examining disabled soldiers and looking into government hospital conditions.

"The testimony reads," said Colonel C. W. Wickersham, chairman of the committee, "more like the record of some medieval story of torture and neglect than a modern-day hearing concerning the gratitude of a great republic to its soldiers."

The committee urged immediate legislation to consolidate the bureau of war risk insurance, the rehabilitation division of the federal board for vocational training, and that part of the United States health service which relates to the care of former service men and women.

MILLER BELL OFFERS TO SUCCEED HIMSELF

Milledgeville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Mayor Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville, will be a candidate to succeed himself at the primary to be held May 11. Since announcement of the date of the primary, a number of citizens have urged Mr. Bell to offer for another term, assuring him of their enthusiastic indorsement.

During the years he has been at the head of the city government great progress has been made along all lines. Finances of the city are in splendid condition and there is perhaps no other city in the state where more economical and judicious handling of the finances can be shown. As yet there is no opponent to Mr. Bell.

Exide BATTERIES

Today and Every Day You Use an Exide

Every day of your life you depend on Exide Batteries. When you telephone, the current from an Exide sends your voice over the wire. In many other ways Exide Batteries are constantly serving you.

Ninety-five per cent of the central power and lighting stations of our great cities use Exide for reserve power. Exides run locomotives that gather coal in the mines. They light railway trains, and operate switches. They propel under the sea eighty per cent of our submarines.

Experience in these and other fields made possible the first automobile starting and lighting battery, which was an Exide. The Exide built for your car today contains every lesson learned in thirty-three years of battery making.

You will find that the rugged power of an Exide is a great satisfaction, and its long life and freedom from repairs a true economy.

What is the Country's Condition?

From comment by the Honorable David F. Houston:

This Second Survey of National Conditions, made by the Fidelity and Deposit Company, is suggestive, and will be helpful. At all times information of the sort here gathered is valuable. It is particularly so now, when there is still uncertainty in the business world, and leaders are debating the details of their industrial programmes and policies. It indicates that the business world is still feeling its way, but with increasing confidence, and with the conviction that the worst has passed.

The country has successfully borne the strain caused by a most notable drop in prices, particularly of a vast volume of raw materials, and has weathered a trying period of liquidation. The demand for finished products has not developed to the point where our factories feel justified in taking the requisite quantity of our surplus raw materials to furnish the necessary relief to their producers; but there are some indications of a change in this direction.

Business men realize that forced action, based on artificial optimism, may lead to unwise action, and produce further embarrassment.

The foreign situation has not shown the expected improvement, and continued difficulties are experienced in discovering an effective European market for our commodities.

This Survey does point to certain favorable domestic conditions. The cost of living has appreciably diminished. Building operations in a number of districts tend to increase. There have recently been no strikes of consequence. Greater productivity of labor per man is reported from all districts. Raw materials are plentiful, and physical transportation conditions are good. There have been no business failures of moment. The crop outlook is satisfactory; and the banking situation has improved. It is believed that confidence in business circles is slowly spreading, and that while there is hesitancy, the business men of the country are feeling their way with sound business caution, and the country is working back toward a more stable condition.

A PLAN FOR RELIEVING TAXATION DIFFICULTIES

Suggested by Daniel de Wolf Wever of the New York Bar

PREMISES: (1) The Government must continue to receive revenue on the present scale or higher.

(2) The present tax system is widely condemned as hampering industry and progress.

(3) Sale of a bond issue is probably impracticable.

RELIEF SUGGESTED: Legislation providing for refunding to each tax-payer, in the form of U. S. Twenty-year four per cent. bonds, to be issued for that purpose, one-half the amount paid as income, war and excess profit taxes for the years 1920-1923 inclusive.

RESULTS: (1) The Government would receive in cash the full amount of the tax levied.

(2) The tax-payer would in effect have his taxes cut in half, as the bonds received would constitute a liquid asset.

(3) The burden of war costs would be spread over a longer period.

Local Representatives will supply on request copies of the Survey Chart, and complete text of the analysis by the Honorable David F. Houston.

THE SECOND SURVEY OF NATIONAL CONDITIONS

The Fidelity and Deposit Company presents this second Survey of National Conditions in response to many requests. It is based on the answers to carefully considered questions, made by one thousand selected Representatives of the Company in all parts of the country. The Survey is a review by business men, prepared with every effort to insure accuracy, for the information of business men; and published as a contribution to the Nation's commercial well-being. The information, based on interviews with bankers, merchants, manufacturers and others in a position to speak authoritatively; was telegraphed to Baltimore and tabulated within the last five days.

The first Survey of National Conditions was published September 21, 1920, and aroused so much interest as to indicate that it was of value to the public at large, as well as to the Directors of the Company for whom the data was primarily intended. It was felt at this time that another review would be welcomed.

FOR CLEAN SPORTS.

Legislation calculated to discourage gambling and grafting in connection with athletic sports, that is being written into the statute books of many states, afford traditional demonstration of the wholesome effects of the recent baseball corruption exposures by the Illinois court authorities in Chicago.

Since that memorable "shake-up" in major league professional baseball, the legislatures of states in all parts of the country have enacted laws intended to keep the national game clean; and in many instances such acts of legislation embrace athletic sports of all kinds.

Most of the states have statutes which make gambling either a misdemeanor or a felony; and since the Chicago baseball scandal was uncovered many legislatures have enacted special acts expressly forbidding the placing of wagers on the outcome of baseball, football and other athletic contests, and more particularly by participants in or promotors of such sports.

The good effect of such legislation is obvious; and nobody ought to be more eager to encourage it, or anything else intended to purify athletic enterprises and to keep them strictly on the basis of "sports for sport's sake," than those who are directly interested, in a pecuniary way or otherwise, in this field of recreation and amusement.

It is gratifying that southern legislators have taken this matter up aggressively and joined in the nation-wide movement to eradicate bribery, graft, gambling and corruption in whatever form from the realm of sports, especially from baseball.

The Louisiana and Texas legislatures have taken action in that direction, and there is a "clean sports" bill pending before the legislature of Tennessee, now in session, with every indication pointing to its early enactment.

This act was drafted by John D. Martin, president of the Southern League of baseball, and it is understood that a similar measure will be presented to the Georgia general assembly when it convenes next June.

It is to be hoped this will be done, and that our state lawmakers will take kindly to any suggestion that may be made with the purpose in view of keeping corruption, graft and the taint of gambling out of baseball, football, boxing and all other forms of sports in Georgia.

NO GROUCH-ROOM.

With business taking on new life in the cities and the small town capitals of the agricultural districts, it's time to send the grouch flying and to cultivate a spirit of cheerfulness.

But it is hard to silence the grouch of the unprogressive ones, even when they are presented with the evidence of better business conditions.

Of the class of chronic growlers—and they are found everywhere—The Albany (Ga.) Herald says:

"The fellow who goes about complaining of business stagnation—'nothing doing'—and asking when conditions are going to become normal and the business situation will 'settle down' is getting to be a nuisance. He is almost invariably a drone in the business hive and a 'slack-wad' in commercial and industrial activities. He initiates nothing and leads in nothing. He just waits for others to start something and to do something that causes the wind to blow his way and drop shekels into his idle hands."

And even then, there never is enough prosperity to please him—the "rainy day" is at hand, in spite of everything to the contrary!

"It is time to begin snubbing the business grouch wherever he shows his head," says the Albany paper, and to help speed up the work of those "who are cheerfully meeting changing conditions and hustling instead of growling."

The Walton (Ga.) News says "Amen" to that, and adds that it's "the boosting time for everybody—to boost your town, your county, and every business-building enterprise."

Work is a great grouch-killer, and that's the medicine that the gloomy ones should take.

There is little danger of spring poetry being hurt by a frost—it's warm in the waste-basket.

It's great working-weather in the spring garden.

Love and April.

I.

The time of love is April, whose bright gleams
Are fleeting as the dim light seen in dreams:
Love's voice hath then the thousand varying tones
Of winds and woods and fairy-haunted streams.

II.

For then if Mary, knowing I adore,
Whispers she loves me—sweetly, o'er and o'er,
And then, unfeeling, hears Love's bitter moans,
I blame her nothing; I expect no more!

III.

I blame her nothing in the light of day:
I say, "'Tis April, and a woman's way."
I reap the sunshine and the silver rain
And blithely follow still the rainbow's ray.

IV.

For Love, like April, still will slip his tether:
But O the joy of his uncertain weather—
Bright as the sparkle of the best champagne!
Love, lift your glass: we'll clink a cup together!

How the Linotype Said It.

"We have one of the unruly things in The Advertiser office and it furnishes much grief in broken and unbroken doses. But a real trouble from a machine happened in a town in the south part of this state, where the editor thought he was writing a legitimate piece of news, but when it appeared in the paper, it read: 'The doctor felt the patient's purse and declared there was no hope.' The doctor claims his reputation was injured to the extent of $10,000."

The Poetical Correspondent.

"Two big meetings going on
In this here godless place,
And many who were out the fold,
I think, were saved by grace.

"But, friends, I want to tell you this:
It may be to your sorrow
If you should climb the hill today
And tumble down tomorrow.

"Satan won't let a one get by—
To the sinner still he clings,
And when you think you're flying high
Sets fire to your wings.

"There's lots more that I want to say,
If you would space allow,
But this here ain't my writin' day—
And they ain't no news nohow."

Why Not Native Beef To Stimulate the Industry?

Editor The Constitution: I notice that the governors of five cotton growing states have issued a proclamation urging the people to wear cotton clothes.

Why not also urge them to use native beef instead of the western?

We can and are raising beef cattle in Georgia that are as good as the western steers but there is no sale for it, and hence no encouragement from the local markets.

The trade demands western beef just like in the past we have asked for the woolen clothes.

I believe some stimulus in the shape of a propaganda along this line would be a great encouragement for the farmers to raise more of the beef cattle.

Governors Are Confident Over Outlook for Industry

Forward-looking governors throughout the country, whose vision extends far beyond the confines of their own four borders, sound a very sane, conservative and optimistic note for the near future of business in brief messages which they have written for an interesting article compiled by American Industries.

Most of them are confident that the country has passed safely through the critical days of the readjustment period that was bound to follow in the wake of the war. They express the happy satisfaction that, while there was bound to be a certain measure of unemployment and other disturbing conditions, that the nation is now on its way toward complete industrial recovery. They believe the confidence with which the business men and the public faced and solved the situation is another evidence of America's capacity to meet great emergencies.

Optimism in South.

From the South, as well as from other sections, comes a strong note of optimism. Governor-Elect Thomas W. Hardwick reports for Georgia: "While deflation has hit Georgia with considerable force, industrial economic and financial conditions are already much better than they were sixty days ago, and still, I believe, continue to steadily improve.

"The farmers of Georgia have suffered enormous losses, but they are facing the future with courage, and hope to be able to make the next crop at a much lower cost than the last one. The merchants and manufacturers of the state, while compelled to stand considerable losses, are already buckling down to meet the new conditions, and are steadily improving their situation. In short, I am confident that this state will soon right itself, and will soon return to at least normal prosperity."

Governor John M. Parker, of Louisiana, after stressing the recuperative powers of the South, finds the chief difficulty in the present situation in the lack of circulation, saying: "We have more money and more goods than any nation in the world, but somehow the circulation does not seem to work. There is more or less congestion and an immense amount of uncertainty. These conditions removed, business in all lines will speedily again become normal."

After pointing out the signs of a business revival, Governor A. C. T. Ritchie, of Maryland, says: "Everywhere there are signs of apparent over-production in the great fundamental requisites of industry. Never in modern history has the world been in such need for goods, and never before have we had such a surplus on hand. The first definite signs of business revival are beginning to appear. Stock market prices have been rising, and prices of great agricultural staples have recovered from their lowest level of a few weeks ago. Conditions in the money market are less stringent. Money rates are easing and loans diminishing. Banking reserves are increasing. Foreign exchange rates have recovered sharply and textile mills which have been closed or been inactive are resuming operations. These signs forecast revival; they do not mean that it is actually here. Not until the adjustment is completed, including some modification of the present system of taxation, will the real recovery set in."

Back to Old Stride.

"Business conditions in Kentucky," says Governor E. P. Morrow, "are already beginning to show a marked improvement. There was a period of depression. It has begun to pass away. By mid-summer or fall, Kentucky will be again in its old stride. There is a general spirit of rapid comeback throughout the entire state."

Florida is in good condition notwithstanding the depression now existing in other sections of the country. Governor C. A. Harde says: "Our strength lies in the diversity of pursuits and industries. Some of our industries are affected but others are in good healthy condition. On the whole, we have good reason for a spirit of optimism and our state is going forward."

After a thorough review of the situation Governor R. A. Cooper, of South Carolina, is confident in the future.

"Taking the situation all in all," he says, "I am confident that better times are ahead. A few months ago I thought things would get better because they could not get worse; now my optimism is not based upon such a pessimistic foundation; things are getting better. The state of mind is improved; confidence and courage are coming out of hiding. Merchants, who a short while ago had about concluded that the public was emulating the hunger strikers reports that folks are eating again; and tailors are glad to say that they see symptoms of the survival of clothes as necessities of life. Farmers are going about the business with a determination to see it through. Banks, while still heavily laden, can see their way out. In short, we have had a hard time of it, but can see daylight now, and are steadfastly on our way to better times."

A return to "full speed" within a few months is predicted by Governor W. C. Sproul, of Pennsylvania, who believes "that prompt action upon the great essential questions by congress, careful management by corporations, firms and individuals, and, particularly, faith and courage upon the part of those to whom we look for commercial and industrial leadership, will soon chase the blues away. I expect to see a gradual revival in business and a return to "full speed" within a few months."

Favorable in the West.

In Colorado "the business outlook is favorabl because the people are attacking the problem of readjustment through the medium of hard work and in a spirit of conciliation," says Governor O. H. Shoup. "The nation as a whole will recover its balance as rapidly as its citizens return to the doctrines of thrift, industry and good will which made the republic great."

This same spirit is reflected throughout the west in statements by Governors J. A. O. Preus, of Minnesota; Louis F. Hart, of Washington; William D. Stephens, of California; D. W. Davis, of Idaho; S. R. McKelvie, of Nebraska, and E. D. Byle, of Nevada.

"In Massachusetts," says Governor C. H. Cox, "we are slowly returning from the abnormal conditions and prices which have obtained for the last five years. Already business has begun to pick up. Business men are getting back their courage. I look for a steady increase in business and return to prosperity."

Favors Co-ordination Of High School System

Editor Constitution: As a taxpayer and a citizen vitally interested in the quality of public instruction provided for young school-going Atlantans, I wish to express my convictions regarding the high school problem which the city now faces.

Granted that the four junior high schools proposed are genuine expedients which in no sense risk waste of public money in that the buildings planned are needed to relieve existing congestion in the grammar schools and can be devoted to regular grammar grade work should the junior system be found undesirable, the grave concern is over the senior or upper high school organization.

Sentiment would ask for the perpetuation of the Girls' High school and the Boys' High school and a storm of pseudo-practicability seems to sweep even more strongly toward a permanent Tech High school. Commercial High school alone feels its co-educational lack of ancestry too great a stigma to warrant its contending for self-perpetuation.

Here let me applaud the aspirations of Fulton High school to become amalgamated with the city system, whatever it is, and so make for economy and efficiency.

As a graduate of Girls' High I should be sorry to see it go. Except for its dependence upon Commercial High, it is a more nearly complete unit than is either of the high schools for boys, considered separately. But intimate knowledge of educational conditions in the middle and far west has convinced me that segregation is wasteful as well as archaic.

Instead of dissipating public funds and professional interest and energy in any sort of divided system, why not create one great and all inclusive senior high school looking towards an eventful junior college affiliated with the state university? But the junior college idea is a far-off dream and by no means the center of the present concern. The city owns enough valuable central property, which, if sold, would bring enough money to purchase a truly ample site in a less expensive section of town, says in the vicinity of Piedmont park, or any other section where a continuous tract can be had fairly accessible to a number of street car routes. On such a tract the present appropriation could be invested in terms of a great permanent system.

The union plan of high school has proved most efficient throughout the state of California as an inter town scheme and equally successful in the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, though the site in the latter case was unfortunately remote from most car routes. We can learn much from California's educational policy. Neither time nor money is spared to secure the most efficient principals for such schools. Not stopping with her own university graduates of ability and experience, California seems to prefer to go out of the state for men and women who have done noteworthy things elsewhere. Such is California's cosmopolitan opposition to smug inbreeding. In the town of Fresno, Cal., where, by the way, is located one of the most thorough and well-organized central high schools and junior colleges in the state, an institution in which are enrolled more than thirty separate and distinct nationalities, the co-ordination of departments and the variety of constructive courses are almost unbelievable, when we stop to consider the smallness of that city as compared with our own great Atlanta. If a town scarcely a fourth the size of Atlanta can show in crowded, outgrown quarters five or six times the efficiency we can lay claim to through our wasteful segregated system, what could we not achieve on a similar plan in adequate quarters and under capable management?

Shepperson's Cotton Facts Just From the Press

The latest edition of "Cotton Facts," known to the cotton world for its usefulness, comprehensiveness and fidelity, has just been published.

It contains 160 pages of condensed statistical information covering the various commercial activities of the cotton trade. Its widespread scope is shown by its diversified range of topics which include cotton culture,—embracing acreage, yield, condition and preservation; cotton marketing, showing the record of the world's exports and imports, receipts and shipments, price quotations and values; transportation, wage and dividend data; as well as complete data concerning the most useful phases of the manufactured output.

This year's new features embrace maps in color, enlarged reviews and extended tables.

At no time since Colonel Shepperson's death has the Shepperson Publishing company been in such an advantageous position in regard to cotton statistics as it now is. The company is directed and controlled by C. W. Shepperson Bull, the only supervising member of the family connected with the business, under whose able and efficient management the company is rising to a position prominent among statistical publishers.

Poet, philosopher, and Nature's friend!
Her ordained high-priest, and her worshiper;
'Twas thou who taught the world to comprehend
The true, the good, the beautiful in her.
Thus, through her, guiding wise souls up to God;
Teaching, by types and signs; revealing Him
In trees and flowers, even daisies of the sod;
In birds or "primrose by the river's brim."
Great soul! how Spring thy passing will regret,
Veiling the glory of her face for thee!
Yet never will tree, flower, or bird forget
What thou hast been to them; but there will be
Song and rejoicing when God's angels bring
To crown thee, flowers of Heaven's eternal spring.

FINE START IS MADE BY CROPS IN THOMAS

Thomasville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—With cold weather passing off and with no frost to damage them, crops around the county are looking in fine condition. In some sections, notably the Meigs district, cotton is reported as far enough advanced to chop out; also is knee-high and ready for chopping out. Never have the agricultural sections of the county shown up in more beautiful condition, and unless there is some unlooked for disaster, the year of 1921 bids fair to be a record one for crops in this section.

HEALTH TALKS

AUTOBOYOGRAPHY—III.

Real Victuals.

Probably the most important period of a man's life as regards the selection of his food, is from the second to the seventh year of his boyhood. From father's exhaustive study of the science and my personal experience of the art of boy feeding in the past six years we have arrived at some practical conclusions which I here set down.

As soon as a boy or child is equipped by nature with teeth those teeth should be used for mastication, which keeps them clean and makes them strong. At the age of two years most boys have a set of about sixteen teeth—eight incisors, four canines and four molars—and that is an ample machinery for the mastication of real vituals. It is a great mistake, based on ancient ideas of infant feeding, to keep the diet of a youngster restricted to liquids, and sundry supposedly "easily digested" substitutes for real victuals. A great many cases of digestive difficulty enduring for many years occur from such ill-advised mollycoddling of a boy's eats. Have it that a child is a sickly proposition if you will, but for goodness sake don't train a boy to be afraid of his victuals.

For instance, some sanitarium-diet fanatics teach that nature's most wonderful food, sugar, is rank poison for children. Stuff and nonsense. Those sanitarium food specialists ought to get out and meet a few real boys. I tell you sugar is one of the most nutritious, most quickly available (quickly digested, absorbed and utilized for energy) and most essential food elements in the diet of infants and young children. Mother's milk is more than half sugar, so far as its nutritive elements are concerned. The sanitarium food specialists may be right there with the diet for invalids, but I tell you again they are terribly mistaken when they preach no sugar and no candy or no sweets for young children.

Dad insists on keeping on our table a big bowl of the brownest, crudest grade of brown sugar there is, and he has never worried whether I used half a spoonful or six spoonfuls on my entire wheat or oats or on my bread and butter. He prefers the crude brown to the so-called refined pale sugar because the brown contains about 200 times as much mineral matter as the white granulated sugar, and this mineral matter is essential to health. And when it comes to good health, I'm always ready to lineup alongside any poor little kid who is denied sugar by his misguided parents.

Yes, it is true that some of the old-time pediatricians or baby specialists were badly obsessed with the sanitarium conception of boy feeding, and their nimble little handbooks for anxious mothers are still doing a lot of harm by propagating the great error even if the specialist themselves have long since changed their views regarding sugar as food.

So, come on, good parents, if you've got a boy boarding at your house, loosen up with the sugar bowl and make it brown, the darker the better.

What the Stars Predict.

This is a doubtful day.

Business activities should prosper under this rule of the stars, despite the danger of new labor troubles.

The evening hours of this day are lucky for meetings of those who hold positions of trust and great authority.

A period of great progress for this country is predicted. The federal government will make extensive plans for the public welfare, and the question of cleansing the cities and making new provisions for the care of the public health will receive much attention.

Persons whose birthday this is will have a happy year in which they will have opportunities to show great moral courage and gain recognition in their communities.

Children born today, though strong willed and headstrong, will be courageous and capable of carrying big undertakings to successful completion.

What Jobbers Have Done With and Without Advertising

BY ST. ELMO MASSENGALE

PRESIDENT MASSENGALE ADVERTISING AGENCY

A good example of the power of advertising or rather the power of not advertising, is the jobber.

Jobbers, as a class, have in the past been non-advertisers. One reason was because the jobbers operate on a small margin of profit, but the chief reason was because it was not the custom for jobbers to advertise. Custom is a peculiar thing. Because people once rode in stage coaches, custom would have them always ride in stage coaches. Because ships customarily were moved by wind power, custom ridiculed Fulton when he proposed moving them by steam power.

The result of the non-advertising policy of jobbers is that the average person has come to believe that the jobber is a business parasite, making the consumer pay a premium for the goods the jobber handles. In fact, the thing has gone so far during the past year that a few large manufacturers have discontinued the policy of selling through the jobber and are trying to operate without him as a connecting link to the dealer.

Jobber Fills Economic Need.

The facts of the case are that the jobber in most cases fills an economic need. The jobber enables the manufacturer to reduce selling cost and yet get his goods on sale in even the smaller rural towns, in addition to lessening the manufacturer's credit risk and bookkeeping expense. On the other hand the jobber, by acting as a convenient warehousing and distributing point for the retailer, enables the retailer to operate on a smaller capital and make a greater profit by ordering a wide variety in small quantities, and by making a more frequent turnover in his stock. Frequent turnover on the part of a retailer means that he can offer the public lower prices.

But what the public is ignorant of it is prone to suspect. Jobbers, by their failure to educate the public by advertising what their true economic position is, have created for themselves no good will, nor have they sold themselves to the public as a necessary business factor. Consequently it has been easy for irresponsible demagogues, theorists with some pet "cure-all" idea, or those with some particular ax to grind, to successfully assail in the public's mind the position of the jobber.

This is not an attempt to hold forth the jobber as an innocent victim of circumstance, for there are no doubt cases where a jobber has served no one's interest but his own; and in any event, the jobber has but himself to blame for the present popular cry of "cut out the middleman," for he has brought it on himself for not insuring, by advertising, his business and his position in the business world.

Lesson for Merchant.

The manufacturer or the merchant, or whoever has a commodity or a service to sell, should take to heart the experience of the jobber. And they should take to heart the lesson that a certain few wise jobbers have taught the manufacturer.

There are on the market today several nationally known commodities that are really controlled by jobbers. A manufacturer would have a good commodity but would not advertise it. A farseeing jobber would acquire sales rights to the commodity, put it out under a trade-mark, advertise it, and before the manufacturer realized what had happened the jobber had obtained control of the market on the commodity, and in some cases, eventually controlled the factory as well.

Advertising is to business what steam power is to transportation. You may be able to get along without it, but you will have a difficult time doing it, and will not go very far.

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. M'INTYRE

New York, April 3.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up early and slept ill, thinking of many things undone. Mr. Roche, the mystery tayle writer, came to say good-bye and to buy me a handsome breakfast, and we saw Miss Edna Ferber and all right merry what with this quip and that.

Home, where all the morning packing my bags, and my wife, poor wretch, was vexed at how I was so untidy, and yet I have not made shift to clean my writing desk in seven months but can instantly find anything I want. A haze over the city like nothing I ever saw before.

Out to the Dutch Treat for lunch, and Mr. Flagg, the artist, was there, and Mr. Lackaye, the actor, and R. Davis, who has lately quit literature for the cinema drama.

Back to my chambers to say good-bye to the servants, who are mighty good and kind, and then with my wife and dog in a gasoline buggy to the station to entrain for California. And sad that my dog must ride in the baggage coach.

The locale of these daily New York articles will be slightly changed during the next two weeks. I am hitting the old Sante Fe trail for the boundless prairies and cactus blooming desert. Out where the west begins, where the hand grip is a little firmer and the bull is—well, never mind. There is no objective point. I expect to see the horrors of Hollywood, the Belasco stage settings at Pasadena, attend at dinner to Peter B. Kyne in San Francisco, and, as is usually the case, the best thing I will find is the train back home. But if my readers will bear with me during the only real vacation I've had in ten years, I'll tell them my impressions.

The novelty of $3,000 coats has worn off among the young ladies who are making so much money playing in the pictures. "African golf" has become the chief indoor sport along Broadway. It is said that no lady is properly dressed unless she has a set of the bones concealed about her.

The result is that the caterers to vanity have provided dice with jewels for markings, some only imitation pearls or diamonds or rubies, but the most popular are ebony dice with real diamonds for the "spots."

And, it is said, the dear girls know how to roll 'em! They have all the jargon of the levee darkey trying to make his point so he can buy his gal a pair of patent leather shoes.

Time was when ticket speculators confined their gambling to buying and selling the higher priced seats. The more enterprising are now plunging in "balcony preferred" also, and new signs are being added to Broadway's thousands. They read: "Balcony seats for all theaters at 50 cents advance."

The Betty Inch "spite fence" in the criminal branch of the supreme court has been torn down. It was erected to prevent the eyes of the jurors from glimpsing the shapely ankles of Miss Inch. And then her lawyer refused to let her take the stand. In the good old days of Hammerstein's Victoria, Miss Inch would have been a headliner following her acquittal, but Willie Hammerstein is gone, and there is no one who has proved able to so successfully exploit scandal.

UNION RAIL MEN O. K. COUNCIL PLAN

Ask Sanction by Union Heads for Formation of Railroad District Councils of All Crafts.

New York, April 3.—Representatives of 175,000 organized railroad employees in special convention here today called upon the executive heads of the recognized national and international railroad unions to sanction the formation of district "offensive and defensive" alliances—railroad district councils—in the New York district and at other "stragetic points in the railroading industry."

These district organizations are necessary, it was stated, in a letter sent to the executive union officials, to enable the railroad employees "to better resist the concentrated attacks of the railway executive association," and "to bring about a closer affiliation of all railroad employees and perfect a 100 per cent organization in all crafts by stimulating interest in their own welfare and educating them in the value of solidarity."

Delegates to the convention who represented all local railroad unions in the Greater New York district urged that "a state of status quo should be declared by American Federation of Labor so as to clear the way, and make it possible for what are now commonly known as the transportation brotherhoods to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor."

Affirm Confidence.

Through this action, it was stated, the "preambles and resolutions that gave birth to industrial autonomy by the formation of the general departments within the federation will be preserved."

More than 250 representatives of local unions in the New York district attended the convention, which was called by district officers of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees.

The delegates affirmed their confidence in their international and national organizations and pledged to them "our all in their untiring efforts to secure and maintain for the railroad employees the working conditions and the standard of livir that they are so justly entitled to.

"We further believe that it would be to the best interest of all concerned," added the communication, "that the present existing pact between the sixteen recognized railroad unions be reaffirmed and continued indefinitely. And that the principle of craft amalgamation and industrial autonomy be not only recognized as a principle, but to be heralded by the railroad workers as an accomplished fact."

Declared Imperative.

Formation of the district councils was declared to be "imperative at this moment of concentrated opposition on the part of those who would divide the railroad employees in order to destroy their economic organizations."

Besides promoting closer affiliation between the various unions, it was explained that these councils would disseminate such knowledge to our membership and information to the public, consistent with the policies of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, as will give a clear understanding of our purposes."

As soon as word had been received from the national and international union executive officials, Anthony Spair, president of the New York district council of maintenance of way and railroad shop laborers' locals, was authorized to call another special convention of final action on the proposal.

KIBLA TEMPLE PLANS FOR BIG CEREMONIAL

Early Clean-Up Urged by Burton To Help Jobless

Rescue Worker Anxious to Obtain Employment for Idle in Atlanta.

With many idle men on the streets of the city, and with many appeals to various institutions for food and shelter, the American Rescue Workers, at 26 Capitol avenue, Atlanta, has sent out a call to the people of this city to begin their clean-up campaign in advance of the official date, in order that hundreds of men now out of work may be given employment.

"Our home here," said Colonel Horace Burton, of the Rescue Workers, "is for women and children. We have no provisions for taking care of men, but the influx of idle men, many of whom have wives and large families, has been so constant and so appealing within the past four weeks that we have been unable to turn them away. In order to care for them, however, we have been compelled to hire rooms in nearby houses, where we place the men for sleeping, while we give them meals in the home. With our very limited means, we were forced to serve fifty men with dinner Sunday."

This added burden of caring for a large number of idle men, Colonel Burton pointed out, makes it exceedingly difficult for the Rescue Workers' home to function on the funds it is able to raise through general solicitations, and he asks the citizens of Atlanta to do all in their power to provide work for the strong men who are forced, by slack industrial conditions in other cities, to come to Atlanta and seek employment. Many of these men, the officer declared, are of the best type of workmen.

"With families at home to be cared for, the men come to us with such an appeal that it is practically impossible to turn them away, and we earnestly ask that the people in Atlanta, who have means to furnish some extra work for the idle workmen coming daily into our city, give this matter attention at once."

It is expected that the opening of farm work, which will begin in earnest within a short time, will absorb many of the idle men crowding into the cities at the present time, but the men must eat and must provide for their families, declared the Rescue Workers' officer, while they are waiting for work to re-open.

"If you have to clean up, do it now," says Colonel Burton, "and help to clean up the crowds of idle men on the streets that would be absorbed into honest efforts to produce a living for themselves and loved ones if given a chance."

ATLANTA FIG TREE RIVALS THE COTTON STALK OF WILCOX

Wilcox county leaped into the limelight last week with the story of an old cotton stalk that put forth a bloom this spring. Atlanta has a story just as authentic and a little more extraordinary.

A fig tree right here in the Gate City of the South has a crop of figs that appeared in August of last year after the regular crop had ripened, survived the winter, and give promise of a fine, extra early yield this season.

F. M. Kinard, of 93 Ormewood avenue, is owner of the remarkable fig bush. It stands in his back yard and bore its fruit through the winter entirely unprotected. Mr. Kinard says that it was a very interesting sight to see the fig tree, bare of foliage, laden with fruit. He expected to see them freeze and drop off, but they never seemed to be affected in the least by the coldest weather Atlanta saw, which, during one spell hovered close to zero.

Percy Chamberlain Will Make Address To Automobile Men

Percy Chamberlain, the "service" expert of the National Automobile Dealers' association, will be the guest of the Atlanta Automobile Dealers' association tonight at the Capital City club, where he will deliver one of his famous lectures on automobile service. W. B. Fitzgerald, executive secretary of the local association, has made a strong appeal to the local automobile men to be present, and bring their salesmen and service managers. A par of his bulletin follows:

"We think that the importance of Mr. Chamberlain, the importance of his subject and the splendid manner in which he is able to express himself merits our very best effort in furnishing a large and appreciative audience, and in view of the fact that this affair is to be conducted without any cost whatsoever we urge on you the wisdom of attending this meeting, also of sending your salesmen and service men to the Capital City club at 8 p. m. tonight."

"Alice in Wonderland" Ticket Sale Will Begin At Two Stores Today

The sale of tickets for "Alice in Wonderland" will open this morning at Franklin and Cox Drug company and at Rich's department store, and Atlantans who expect to see this delightful picture are given warning that the number of tickets has been limited.

This picture, which has been shown in many of the large cities, has never failed to please the big audiences that were attracted, and it is expected that it will make a decided hit in Atlanta.

Miss Margaret Mitchell, assisted by Miss Helen Turman, will have charge of the ticket sale Monday morning; Miss Sue Claflin, with Miss Maureen Faulkner, Miss Marian Rhyne and others of the Girl Scout troup No. 7, will have charge in the afternoon.

The prices that will be charged for tickets in Atlanta are much less than they were sold for in other cities. Seats will be offered here by the Atlanta Smith's College club for 25 cents that brought $1 elsewhere. The performances will be Thursday at 2:30 and 4 p. m., and on Friday at 2:30, 4 and 8 p. m.

BIG ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT CITY AUDITORIUM

In a recent interview with Felix F. Leifels, manager of the New York Philharmonic orchestra which plays here at the city Auditorium on next Wednesday evening, the interviewer had occasion to compliment the philharmonic manager on a collection of clippings from newspapers all over the country. They were the tributes that the press had paid America's oldest orchestra wherever the philharmonic had played.

"Yes," said Mr. Leifels, "we have had some remarkable fine notices, but, without meaning to underestimate the value of that sort of criticism, I would trade them all for the practical praise in this." He touched a small book. "This book," he went on, "contains the figures of attendance at our concerts. It is the criticism of the public. Last season, 201,304 people heard our performances. That is a record. In New York, the 'all-seats-sold' sign was displayed more frequently than ever before—it appeared, in fact, at nearly every concert."

OVER 30 NATIONS TO ATTEND MEET

World-Wide Representation Assured for Meeting of National Association of Manufacturers.

New York, April 3.—Ambassadors, ministers and commercial representatives of more than thirty nations have accepted the invitation of the National Association of Manufacturers to attend a conference of ambassadors and ministers on world trade during the association's three-day annual convention in this city beginning May 16.

In making the announcement today, the association stated that Secretary of State Hughes would formally open the conference on the second day of the convention, unless some unforeseen circumstance should detain him in Washington. A special train bearing the distinguished guests is scheduled to leave the capital at midnight, May 16.

"This important gathering," a statement said, "which will be the first of its kind ever held in this country, if not in the world, has been arranged in order that representatives of other nations may have an opportunity to explain to the men most intimately concerned in financing and extending our foreign trade, how the constructive forces of the United States may be co-ordinated best to serve the needs of the world.

Seek Foreign Views.

"There will be discussions of the best methods to meet the demands of Europe and other countries for raw and manufactured materials and to extend the credit that is so essential. The national association of manufacturers comprises 6,000 manufacturing enterprises which produce more than 75 per cent of the entire manufactured output of the nation and this convention will give their members an opportunity to obtain the foreign viewpoint direct for the first time in their history.

Each session of the conference will be devoted, it was stated, to a particular group of nations and each will have as an honorary chairman one of the ambassadors from that group of nations. A special information section will be arranged, where each country may have on exhibition special literature or special trade information for the benefit of the delegates.

Stephen S. Mason, president of the association, will preside at the five sessions of the conference.

Fundamental Need.

"The fundamental necessity," Mr. Mason said, "is to meet the needs of Europe in raw and manufactured materials and machinery, so that she can take up again her productive activities without assuming an intolerable burden of immediate obligations.

"American manufacturers alone can meet these needs on bases of credit which will enable Europe and the rest of the world to resume their inter-dependent commerce and thus restore employment and its consequent increased consumption power. American financial interests have familiarized themselves with world problems insofar as the financing of foreign commerce has been concerned, but the manufacturer himself has lacked a broad, intimate knowledge of the necessities of the situation. Therefore he has failed possibly to understand why he should exert all of his ingenuity and resources in meeting the needs of the foreign buyer.

"This conference we hope will bring home directly to the members of the National Association of Manufacturers the need for their fullest co-operation in helping to solve the acute economic problems of the world."

KEY CHALLENGED TO JOINT DEBATE IN CORNELIA, GA.

Challenge to a joint debate on the issues involving public ownership of the Georgia Railway and Power company and other utilities has been issued to Mayor James L. Key by F. M. Reeves, cashier of the Habersham bank at Clarksville.

Mr. Reeves challenged the mayor to divide time with him on the occasion of his visit to Cornelia, where he has announced that he will make a public address soon.

Last night Mayor Key said that he had not received the challenge of Mr. Reeves, and stated that his acceptance of the invitation to divide time would "depend on the circumstances." The mayor will leave this morning on the Greater Georgia Tech tour. He said that it is his intention to speak at Cornelia at an early date.

Central Congregation To Worship April 17 In New Church Home

The congregation of Central Baptist church is preparing to move into its new building on April 17. At the services Sunday Dr. Ridley spoke on "Knowing Him," and Mr. Campbell, a member of Central church, who has been a missionary in China for several years, also spoke. He will speak again next Wednesday evening.

Next Sunday will be "Home-coming Day." Every man and woman in the city, or out of it, who ever belonged to the congregation is invited to be present. This will be the last service in the old building.

For fifteen years the church has worshiped at the old building on Garnett street, and thousands have been saved in its services. More than 500 professed conversions last year.

At the morning service Dr. Ridley will preside, but will give an opportunity for others who desire to recount experiences of the past years of struggle and joys, victories and defeats.

France Decorates St. Mihiel With Croix de Guerre

St. Mihiel, France, April 3.—St. Mihiel awoke to the ringing of chimes Sunday. The occasion was the receiving of the croix de guerre by the town which knew the sound of guns so long, and was ultimately liberated from German occupation by the American army. The celebration began Saturday night with a torchlight parade in which all city dignitaries and various local societies participated.

Minister of Pensions Maginot conferred the cross upon the city in the presence of the townspeople, and the senators and deputies of the department of the Meuse. Colonel West, of the American embassy, represented the United States at the ceremonies. Commercy will be decorated later.

THOMAS CO-OPERATES IN TICK ERADICATION

Thomasville, Ga., April 2.—(Special.)—Tick eradication in Thomas county is being carried out better than ever before and is receiving the support and co-operation of the farmers generally. Dr. Lebeson, government inspector and tick eradicator, hopes soon to have the county in the tick-free list. Gates on roads leading into Florida counties that are not tick free, are kept closed and there is a movement to appoint a man to ride the woods and see that no cattle get across the line into Thomas.

Dealers Getting Ready for Season Declares Jacobs

Searching for Pick-Ups and Distress Stocks and Holding Them.

Returning yesterday from New York, Baltimore and other large northern centers, where for two weeks he has been searching the spot cash markets for wholesale job lots and bargains in the grocery line, Isidor Jacobs, one of the best known auctioneers to the trade in the south, stated that never before in his many years of business experience has he known such activity among dealers who have ready cash to work with.

"Both retailers and wholesalers from all parts of the country," he said, "are searching for pick-ups and distress stocks, and when they but many of them are refusing to turn loose, even at a good profit, what they have bought. This indicates that many are stocking up for the coming season, which is a reasonable indication that in their opinion prices have gone below the replacement point.

"Canned goods especially are being sought and bought wherever found at the 'right' prices. Many of the big east coast canners, who a month or so ago were in a quandary as to the coming season, have been forced almost to a standstill.

There has been practically no drop in the prices of those materiels which the canner must use, such as cans and cases, and no prospect of a drop, so the contracts with growers are either not being made at all or they are being made on a much restricted basis over last year.

"Unlike the cotton growers of the country, they are well organized and when they do not give out contracts the growers are forced to 'cut the acreage.' This means a short pack for the coming year. Their course seems to be the only logical one that can be followed under the circumstances.

"This condition is well known to these buyers who are snapping up bargains and I found that one reason they refused to sell at a profit was that they are bent on rapid turnovers with their home customers. One dealers who was buying pretty heavily told me that with what he could command he was doing all the business he could—buying for cash and selling for cash and by quick turnovers at small profits he was re-educating himself as a merchant and forgetting his speculation spree of the past few years when he bought all that he could and held it for a raise in the market."

STEAL IRON SAFE, BUT ROBBERS FAIL TO GET CONTENTS

After entering the home of James Catsakis, of 401 Central avenue, Sunday afternoon, tossing his iron safe from a window of the second floor, where they found it, then carrying it into a nearby alley, then found the task of opening it a bad job, and abandoned it. The safe contained diamonds and $200 in money.

Simultaneously with the attempted burglary, the negro maid at the home disappeared, it is said. Whether this fact had any significance in connection with the affair is not known.

Conference Agrees Upon Bridge Site On Savannah River

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) At a conference yesterday between South Carolina's official bridge engineer, J. L. Parker, S. B. Slack, the Georgia state bridge engineer, and B. H. Graff, district engineer for the state highway commission, the Chatham-Beaufort site for a bridge over the Savannah river was practically agreed upon as the logical location of the project.

In the prosecution of plans to consummate the Five Ports highway, linking Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville, the bridging of the Savannah presented the big problem. The proposed bridge will cost more than half a million dollars. There is a serious effort at work here for a spicial bill in the legislature aowing Chatham to use any surplus of its two and a half million dollar road bond issue left after completion of the five projects outlined, for a nucleus of the Chatham county portion of the cost of the interstate bridge. When the bridge is built, it is assured, it will be so placed as to not interfere with shipping on the river as little as possible.

EXTEND TIME LIMIT TO STRIKING WORKERS

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) Striking electricians here have been given until Tuesday, instead of Monday, to reach a decision whereby an agreement can be reached in their differences with the Master Electricians' association of Savannah, which has declined to sign a new contract at the old wage of a dollar an hour, but insist on a reduction in keeping, it is declared, with reductions in other lines of labor, amounting to 25 per cent.

SALES TAX URGED AT TAX CONFERENCE

New York, April 3. — Enactment of a sales tax at 1 per cent on all goods, wares and commodities for a period of three years was unanimously recommended at a tax conference just concluded here, Henry J. Burton, of Minneapolis, president of the Tax League of America, announced tonight. Repeal of the excess profits tax, reduction of the surtaxes in the higher brackets, and temporary legislation to cover the present emergency need of funds also were favored.

EARTHQUAKE FOCUS NEAR SAN SALVADOR

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, April 3.—The earthquake shock felt here on March 28 had its focus 160 kilometers from here, according to the directors of the seismological observatory. It was felt in a southeasterly direction along the Gulf of Fonseca, reaching the peak of its intensity in southwestern Guatemala.

DEATH IS ATTRIBUTED TO ALCOHOLIC POISON

Cartersville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—W. B. Fitzpatrick, a young man about 30 years old, was found dead in his bed at a rooming house here, and a coroner's jury brought in a verdict that he died from alcoholic poisoning. The body was sent to Bedford, Va., where, it is understood, the young man is well connected and where his parents reside.

Dublin Man on Tech Tour.

Dublin, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The Kiwanis club of this city has raised a fund to have a representative of Dublin on the Georgia Tech industrial tour, which is to start for a trip over Georgia soon. The club elected G. H. Williams, one of the most prominent men in the county, as the delegate from Dublin, and he expects to join the party at the start.

This party will visit Dublin on April 8, and preparations are being made to entertain them while there.

PLAN TO PROTECT U. S. DYE INDUSTRY

Hoover Moves to Make American Products Hold Own in Foreign Market Competition.

Washington, April 3.—Defense of the nation's war-born dye industry against competition of the German dye and chemical trade will be taken up shortly by the department of commerce in conference here with representatives of American manufacturers. Rapid revival of the German industry, especially as a factor in foreign trade, department officials said tonight, must be taken into account by American interests in order that the industry may be secure here and the country remain independent of foreign sources of supply.

Other American products needing the co-operation of the government in the field of foreign trade, according to Secretary Hoover, will be given the attention of the department one at a time. Mr. Hoover is to meet with the war finance corporation and southern bankers tomorrow in an effort to develop a workable plan for building up cotton exports.

The credit angle in the trade revival program, officials said, is in the hands of the war finance corporation which is expected to aid the exporters through corporations organized, under the Edge act in different sections of the country. In addition, formation of combinations for extending foreign commerce under the Webb-Pomerene act has been advocated by Secretary Hoover as the most practical method of moving commodities after credit has been obtained and also as a defense against similar combinations by foreign exporters.

Experts in commenting tonight on the situation, expressed the opinion that American concerns should follow their goods to the market rather than rely upon foreign middlemen to dispose of the commodities. In many foreign countries, where American goods are competing with the French and the British, they said, the Americans were selling through wholesalers who naturally favor their own nationals wherever possible. American merchants, they added, should make their front line the foreign markets, rather than the port of shipment.

Strengthening of the country's shipping position, commerce officials asserted, would naturally follow the foreign trade revival to which the administration is now giving its efforts. Resumption of the flow of American goods to the ports of the world, they contended, would provide the business to take American shipping out of its present slump.

SHOT EIGHT TIMES, CARTERSVILLE MAN LIKELY TO RECOVER

Cartersville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—Although he was shot eight times in the body, Richard McGee, a young white man of this county, who is at the Howell hospital, will probably recover, attending physicians believe. Robert L. Loftis, another young white man, is held at the county jail pending the outcome of the wounds in McGee's body. A woman named Roxie Renfroe, and Malachi Duncan, a white man, are also held as material witnesses.

The shooting took place on a public road near Cartersville, about 2 o'clock in the morning, and is said to have resulted from a disagreement over moonshine liquor.

FRENCH AND AMERICAN CARDINALS IN PARIS

Paris, April 3.—Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia, was the guest of honor at a reception here today at which he met Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris. Cardinal Dubois spoke of the union of France and America, to which Cardinal Dougherty replied:

"If it had not been for the French during the Revolutionary period, we perhaps would not be Americans today."

Many notable personages attended the reception, including Mme. Foch

John Burroughs Is Laid to Rest At Boyhood Home

Famous Naturalist Lies Beneath Boulder Upon Which He Played as Boy.

Roxbury, N. Y., April 3.—John Burroughs was laid to rest this afternoon on the mountain side where he was born exactly eighty-four years ago today. From the peaks and the valleys of his beloved Catskill mountains came hundreds of neighbors to pay him their final honors. Others from far-off corners of the nation joined them at the grave of the great naturalist.

All morning long and in the early afternon the slope down the two-miles of rock mountain to Roxbury was dotted with groups of villagers trudging upward to the burial spot.

Back of the grave, which was blasted from solid rock, and rising high to one tip of the mountain which bears his name, was the clump of woods where Mr. Burroughs hunted the fox and observed the birds during his youth and old age. To the right, over a little knoll, the weather-blackened house in which he was born could be seen. Behind the grave a great boulder on which Burroughs played as a boy and often sat in the twilight shadows as a man of the wide outdoors formed the slab of his resting place. Soon a bronze plaque will be imbedded in the stone to immortalize its significance.

Down the slope a few yards is "Woodchuck Lodge," Burroughs' summer home, where he did much of his writing, and where he occasionally became host to his close friends, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford and Harvey S. Firestone. They stood beside the grave today, and when the ceremony was ended paid a visit to the "lodge."

The burial service was simple. There were a few short prayers, followed by the recitation of poems, after which the casket was lowered into the grave.

HARRIS VISITS AT THOMASVILLE, DISCUSSING RATES

Thomasville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—United States Senator William J. Harris spent yesterday and today in Thomasville enjoying his holiday of five days and taking in the beauties of springtime in south Georgia. Senator Harris states that he is on a sort of tour of inspection in this section, endeavoring to find out the sentiment of the people in regard to a reduction of freight rates and the effect of such reduction on agricultural prospects. He has already launched an effort in the senate to bring about such a conclusion, but in the fight he expects to put up to for lower freight rates he want to get definite data as it applies to agricultural condition in his home state. With these lower freight rates more business for railroads and agricultural interests will be accomplished.

Senator Harris attended the meeting of the Westminster Baraca class at the Y. M. C. A. building here this morning, which is one of the largest Bible classes for men in the state, and afterward attended services at the Presbyterian church.

Educated Prisoners Conducting School At the State Farm

Milledgeville, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—The state farm school for illiterates and those not very far advanced in schooling is doing a wonderful work among the prisoners. From the beginners' course to the work of the more advanced pupils all branches show marked improvement. School hours are in the evening after supper. A number of college graduates and well-educated men among the prisoners voluntarily give their evenings to teaching their fellow prisoners, and the response they are receiving shows appreciation of their efforts.

N. P. Bivins, county school superintendent, visits the school twice a week, which increases the zeal and interest of the students. There is also a business department which numbers about ten or fifteen of the younger men.

Perhaps the most interesting class in the school is the first grade, made so on account of the age of the pupils. One who has especially gained rapid progress is about 68 years of age, and another is about 45. This class is almost ready for promotion to the second grade.

Mae Murray, of "On With the Dance" fame, comes to the Howard theater Monday for three days only in a picture that is said to eclipse for gorgeousness and beauty anything this lovely Paramount star has previously done.

The picture is called "The Gilded Lily," and it takes its name from the name by which the heroine, dancer of one of the great city's most fashionable cabarets, was known throughout the White Light section and the haunts of the "sun dodgers." This part is played by Miss Murray. She plays it with an emotion, a grace and intensity that gives new meaning and new feeling to the real heart behind the rouge and tinsel of the littl cabaret beauty.

Sports — Atlanta Fans Are Ready for "Bambino"

Edited By Cliff Wheatley

"Babe" Ruth Is Big Attraction That Will Draw Crowd to Poncey Tuesday for Major League Game

Atlanta is ready to welcome the "Blustering, Busting Babe," and the prediction is a safe one that more than ten thousand fans will pass through the turnstiles at Ponce de Leon tomorrow to see "Babe" Ruth and his comrades of the New York Yankees, pitted against Uncle Wilbert Robinson's pennant winners of the National league. Some few will shell out their shekels to see the New York and Brooklyn teams, but the other 9,980 are going out to see the "Bambino."

The clubs are slated to arrive in Atlanta tonight, if we are to believe Colonel Bill Stickney, who is traveling around as the "fall guy" of the battle. Colonel Bill was in the office yesterday with the announcement that the advance seat sale will start this morning, and he named the following establishments, where seats may be purchased: Chess Lagomarsino's, Marshall & Reynolds and the Rosier Brothers. Colonel Bill neglected to give out the price of admission, but it was announced some weeks ago that one dollar would buy a reservation in the grandstand, and no change in the tax has been announced.

Former Crackers.

Aside from the interest attached to baseball's greatest clouter, Atlanta is seriously concerned over whether or not Tom Sheehan and "Red" Wingo are traveling with the bunch. Colonel Bill declared that he was certain Sheehan was a member of the caravan, but he wasn't so sure about Wingo. Sheehan is apparently about to pitch himself into a big league uniform and stipend this year, which is especially pleasing to the fans of this vicinity, and unless "Red" has lost the batting eye that marked his stay with Atlanta last year, he is due to stick with the Yankees. Sheehan is being regarded as one of the recruits that will stick with the Huggmen this season and the Yankees might call on him to work against the Dodgers.

Back to the "Babe," there isn't any doubt that this player has made raving maniacs of the baseball fans. They don't worship the pinch hitters any longer; they are mildly interested only in the two-base bingle of some individual with the pegs loaded down. Their idolatry is centered wholly on the long distance swatter and Ruth is the king of them all.

His record of home runs has made him the most talked-about man in the personnel of sportdom and Atlanta fans are only human. Their chatter these days is mostly directed toward the approaching game, and they aren't guessing at the score—they're wondering what this "Babe" looks like and how far he will slap the pill.

That lengthy wallops will abound is the one point to wager safely on. Ruth isn't the only circuit smasher on the two rosters, a glance at the Yankee line-up showing such men as Bob Meusel, Frank "Home Run" Baker, Wally Pipp, Bobby Roth, Aston Ward, Ping Bodie, Wally Schang, and others, while the Dodgers boast Zack Wheat, Tommy Griffith, Ed Konetchy and a host of lesser lights.

World Sefries Line-Up.

Manager Wilbert Robinson hopes to place a world's series line-up in the game here. Outfilder Hi Myers and Pitcher Burleigh Grimes are the only hold-outs and both are expected in camp before the Robins make their visit to this city. Even without this pair Uncle Robbie can put on a strong line-up. He has for pitching duty Sherrod Smith, Ed Pfiffer, Al Mamoux, Dutch Reuther, Clarence Mitchell, Mohart, Leon Cadore and John Miljus, as well as some promising young players. All the above helped Brooklyn to a championship last year, except Reuther, who was obtained in a trade for Marquard. Miller and Krueger head the catching staff as they did last season. The world's series infield of Konetchey, Kilduff, Olson and Johnson is intact, for the reserve material Manager Robinson has Schmandt, Caton and Keeley. For outfield duty Robbie has Zach Wheat, Tommy Griffith, Bernie Neis, Bill Lamar and Hood, who were with the club last season, and Myers is expected to join soon.

The game here will be conducted strictly according to major league rules. Umpire Bill Klem, of the National league, and George Moriarty, of the American league, are handling all of the games of the series and they insist on the same discipline as along the major league circuits. An instance of this was shown in the opening game of the series, played at Baton Rouge on March 16, when Klem put Outfielder Bobby Roth out of the game for too much kicking over a decision.

The touring party—players, club officials, coaches and newspaper men will number about 80 persons. Fifteen newspaper men from New York and Brooklyn are trailing the clubs through Dixie to keep the fans at home posted on the performance of the athletes.

DOWNEY AND MARTY REACH TOWN TODAY

Martin Burke, of New Orleans, and Joe Downey, of Columbus, Ohio, are expected to reach Atlanta early this morning and will begin immediate workouts for their battle Tuesday night at the Auditorium. Reports from the rival camps indicate that both pugilists are in superb condition and tidings of confidence are being sent out.

Burke comes directly from Mandeville, La., where his training camp is located, and where the Crescent City lad has in the past prepared for the big fights that have made his name a big one in light-heavyweight circles. Downey has been at his home in the Buckeye State several weeks resting up after a busy winter season.

Evenly Matched.

It would be foolish for any dopester to attempt to pick a winner. Downey is recognized as the middle west's one big contender for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight crown, and Burke is certainly the class of the heavyweight division, so far as the south is concerned. There are many local pickers who believe that the Dixie lad will stop the hard-hitting Ohio fighter, but there are just as many supporters for Joe's side of the argument. The discussion, anyway, will be definitely decided tomorrow night, and the biggest crowd in Atlanta's ring history is expected for the festivities.

Downey and Burke should prove the match ideal for local bugs. Atlantans don't care a whoop about ring science and the much-pressagented "ring generalship" that the railbirds of this vicinity desire is the slap-bang type of battling, and that's just the sort of encounter the record of these two men presages. Downey is a fearful hitting youngster, who is ramming his way to recognition, and Burke's attack is built very much along the same lines.

Anxious to Fight.

Neither expected a set-up in this engagement, and both expressed a keen desire to fight. "Bring on Downey," was Burke's reply when Promoter Deutsch broached the subject of an opponent for this freckled-faced son of Orleans, "I am looking for the biggest game that stalks, and Downey looks big enough for a trimming."

"No need experience," was Downey's answer to the opposition made to fight Burke. "But I think I have enough to batter this Burke person for a row of shanties; anyway, I'm willing to take a crack at him."

No "cold feet" and caution sticking out of those statements, and Atlanta bugs are certain to see a fine show. Burke has had a setback or two since entering the professional ranks a couple of years ago, but the vast majority of his starts have ended in victory. He was defeated by Bob Martin, but New Orleans scribes attribute this to a bad case of "stage fright," adding that the A. E. F. champion's victory looked very much like a fluke of the rankest sort. Burke doesn't appear anxious to offer any alibi for that defeat, and is content to continue his climb by steady plugging.

Offers No Alibi.

"Martin is a great fighter," Burke was recently quoted in a New Orleans newspaper, "and I guess he gave me a drubbing; but the records of that engagement will show that I more than held my own until I became careless and permitted Bob to put through his crushing right. I know how to fight him, and if my work in future deserves another battle with Martin, I am reasonably certain of victory."

Since making that statement, Burke has fought six hard fights and won them all. He defeated Captain Bob Roper, holder of three decisions over the service champion, which indicates at least that the scribes that are yelling "fluke" have some foundation for their howls. Willie Meehan is another of Martin's victims; Russell Manierl was extremely easy, K. O. Brown, Happy Littleton, Sailor Petroskey, Frank Carbonne, Al Reich, Dick O'Brien, Perry Kellar and Billy Edwards are other of the good men Burke has met.

Immediately after winning the heavyweight championship of the Amateur Athletic Union of Boston two or three years ago, Burke was engaged by Jack Dempsey's sparring partner, and the "Giant Killer" picked the Orleanian as the next champion, provided Burke was handled properly. Martin is taking his profession seriously, and is very ambitious. He is a clean type of fighter and has never been found guilty of fouling an opponent or resorting to underhand tactics in scoring his victories.

Exporters Humble Crackers After Great Pitching Duel Between Wheat and Bailey

Beaumont, Texas, April 3.—(Special.)—Exactly eight days ago Lafe Wheat, Atlanta pitching recruit, defeated Bill Bailey, the veteran exporter, in a duel at Magnolia park. The southpaw did not relish the humiliation and this afternoon went after his revenge when Manager Dick Kauffman again elected to send the young right-hander against the venerable port-sider. With the aid of McDermott's long three-bagger and Durst's two-base knock, which earned the winning run in the eighth, Bailey wreaked his vengeance by a 5-to-2 count. The triumph came only after one of the most warmly-waged struggles of the exhibition period.

It marked the last appearance here this spring of the Atlanta club. Manager Charley Frank came over from the team's training camp at Bay St. Louis, Miss., Sunday, saw his athletes humbled and then took them away on an eastbound train tonight.

Manager Frank announced that Fred Smith, First Baseman Brenner, Pitcher Purcell and Catcher Chipman will be sent to his Yannigan team, which will play three games at Pensacola, Fla., this week-end.

Smith in Charge.

Smith, a veteran performer, will be placed in charge of the club and will operate at third base in the games. The main detachment of Crackers were headed for Greenwood, Miss., for a two-game stay, after which they jump into Jackson on the same date for a three-masted series.

But this started out to be a story about the ball game and Bill Bailey's come-back victory. The turning point of the pastime was reserved for the last section of the eighth inning after the Frankmen had tied the score by bunching four hits off Bailey's southpaw slants in their half of the same period.

Red McDermott opened the eventful round by sending another red-haired pastimer, Munson by name, to the uttermost corner of left field in pursuit of a hit that netted Mac three bases. Durst, the silent, dropped a two-bagger over the right field planks and McDermott registered what proved to be the deciding run.

Near Victory.

The Crackers almost handed disaster to Bailey in the eighth inning. The left-hander went into this frame with the record of having blanked the Georgians through seven chapters. His two-run lead was reassuring, but the southerners disturbed the tranquility of the stands by crowding four hits and half as many runs into the stanza.

Bobby Stow, the former Fort Worth flash, laced out a single to center to start the disturbance. Cutie Breaux took Ritter's fly. Fred Smith crossed up the works by beating out a bunt. Munson's clean clout to left, which Breaux bobbled momentarily, enabled Stow to run in the first Georgia marker in two games.

Richard Kauffman lined to center. Durst made a great attempt to grab the sphere, but barely reached it and it bounded off his glove. The blow filled the bases, as Smith was held at third. The deadlocking run was forced in when Bailey hit Fred Graff on the foot.

Tying Tally.

All hands advanced, Smith taking over the tying tally and leaving the bases still clogged. Fuhrman, the giant Cracker catcher, went in to bat for Joe Guyon and bounded one at Jimmy Doyle. The play was at the plate, where Munson was caught in the act of putting his club in the lad. Schmidt hit to Bailey and was retired at first for the final out.

The Exporters did the bulk of their scoring early, the first two rounds coming in the second inning. Leading off, Jack Stansbury pummeled a hit past third base. Breaux sacrificed and Pat Newnam slammed a single to left, scoring Stansbury. Munson mussed up Newnam's hit and the local manager took second on the play. Kelley's clean hit to right advanced Pat to third, from where he registered when Bailey turned in his first of two safe drives.

That ended the scoring for the Exporters until they iced the game in the eighth. Frequent chances for other tallies bobbed up, but each time the clout in the pinch was lacking. In fact, the Exporters had men on bases in all save the fourth inning. In this frame only did Wheat hold the locals hitless. The Atlanta youth, however, kept the Exporter blows well dispersed save only in the tumultous second and the fateful eighth.

Will Bambino Clear Fence Here?

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

Sammy Mayer Declares He Will

More than 10,000 Atlanta fans are expected to see "Babe" Ruth attempt to knock the ball out of Ponce de Leon park Tuesday afternoon, and just now the question is: Can Ruth or any other batter hit the apple hard enough to drive it onto the railroad tracks directly beyond the right field fence?

The writer laid the problem before some well known baseball authorities that have seen Ruth in action, and their opinions differ.

Sammy Mayer, for instance, says that if Ruth connects solidly the ball is going over that right field wall as easily as a kangaroo clears a rail fence; Charlie Frank declares the height of the bank will make it impossible for the Bambino to scuddle one out of the park; Bill Stickney asserts that Ruth will turn the trick and his opinion is shared by Bobby Gilks, famous scout of the Yankees.

"I speak after seeing Ruth smash one," stated Sammy recently. "If one of his terrific swings establishes contact, the ball is going to the railroad tracks, and if he misses, the people on North Boulevard will hear his groan. Ruth takes such a wicked cut at the agate that at every swing it seems that he is tearing himself apart, and it's a wonder that he doesn't rip the ball every time the willow locates it.

"In a recent game at Shreveport," Sammy continued, "Ruth hit the ball twenty feet above a flag pole in deep center field. It was the longest rap I ever saw, further than I had ever dreamed a baseball could be knocked, and yet some New York newspaper men who were sitting near me, declared that it was not the longest drive Ruth had uncorked at Shreveport. I have played at Ponce de Leon long enough to know that the Babe's wallop would have cleared the right field fence easily, and I feel that Ruth will hit one just like it in Atlanta."

Charlie Frank, who never has been known to wax enthusiastic over anything, took the position that the forty-foot bank in right field would keep Ruth from hitting the ball out of the orchard.

"Ruth is a wonder," Frank stated, "but I don't believe it is humanly possible for any player of the past, present or future, to knock a baseball out of Ponce de Leon park. If that bank didn't occupy the position it does, I might believe Ruth could accomplish the trick, but the handicap will be too much and I don't think the 'Babe' will deliver."

Bobby Gilks heard Sammy's little address and backed him in every particular. Bobby adding that it was a privilege to even watch Ruth strike out.

"He tries harder for a home run than any player I ever saw," Gilks opined. "He doesn't seem to care for a single, double or a triple. He has his mind set on a circuit clout every time he comes to bat, and when he doesn't get it, the 'Babe' gets worried. He hits harder than any living pastimer, and he misses the same way."

Colonel Bill's discourse was confined for the most part to the crowds that have seen Ruth in these exhibition games in the south. The colonel is interested in Ruth, of course, but his department of this game is principally along financial lines. Bill, however, did get his mind away from business long enough to assert that Ruth was capable of driving the ball out of the lot, declaring that the bank would cut no figure in the matter.

Yankees and Dodgers Making Big Money.

With Ruth and his brother sluggers as the main attraction, the exhibition tour of the Yankees and the Dodgers is a money-making proposition and for the first time in history, perhaps, two major league teams are going through their spring training at financial profit. The expenses have been heavier than ever this year, but Dixie fans are just as warm in their worship of Ruth as those in other sections, and thousands are witnessing every game.

When the teams played in New Orleans, more than 10,000 wild-eyed fans paid to see the "Babe" drive out his long ones, and if that many Orleanians pay to see anything, we are reasonably certain that a thousand more Atlantans will find the necessary funds.

FEDERAL INDIANS LOSE CLOSE GAME TO BLACK CRACKERS

The Indians, the colored team from the Atlanta federal penitentiary, went down into defeat before the Atlanta Black Crackers Saturday afternoon on the Morris Brown University field to the tune of 7 to 6.

The game was a hard hitting affair between the two clubs. The Indians got away with a two-run lead in the first, and added one in the third; but the Black Crackers came back strong in the third and tied the score by sending three runners across the plate. The Indians made three tallies in the fourth, while the Atlanta boys made one run in the fifth, one in the sixth, one in the seventh, and one in the eighth.

Poindexter was on the mound for the federal prison nine. The Black Crackers used three pitchers, McCarver, Gisentanner and Joe Robinson. Anderson caught for the Indians, and Oneal did the receiving for the locals.

NEGROES ARE URGED TO BE LAW-ABIDING

Lithonia, Ga., April 3.—(Special.) An address was delivered to the citizens of Lithonia Sunday afternoon in the First A. M. E. church by Rev. B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes Institute, Atlanta, Ga.

"There was never a time in the history of the race when the colored people should live closer to principles of righteousness than at the present time," he said.

"It is the duty of every citizen to strike to make the community in which he lives prosperous. The great conflict through which the colored race is now passing is a medium through which God is now testing its members for greater usefulness. I urge upon every citizen to be law-abiding, and never break the law, but uphold it."

BLACK CRACKERS SLATED TO PLAY BACHARACH GIANTS

The Bacharach Giants of New York and Atlantic City are scheduled to play the Black Crackers at Ponce de Leon on April 7, 8 and 9. The Bacharach Giants are rated second to no colored baseball club in the country, and in their line-up are some of the greatest colored stars in the game, chief among whom are two Atlanta boys—Dick Redding and Lias Bryant.

Dick Redding, born in Atlanta's darktown and known to colored and white people of Atlanta as "Spaniard," has risen from a fly chaser at old Poncey to be one of the greatest pitchers of the day. He is a speed ball king, and boasts of having struck out the great Babe Ruth three times out of four times up, although Babe hopped the right field fence with one of his fast ones for a homer.

The locals are confident that they will give the Bacharach Giants the same kind of reception that the American Giants received, and that they will take two out of three from them.

DEAR MR. PAPER:. Aint this Gink Fowler the same clam digger who Kid Clinkers knocked chillier than Christmas in Moose Factory? Clinkers dropped him like a hot plate. Gink heard more music that night than the Victor buzzing machine dog. He flopped on the canvas and they had to paint a barroom on the ceiling to keep him quiet.
Yours suburbanly, MIKE BERNSTEIN,
Wilkesbarre, Pa.

WE REMEMBER this Kid Clinkers when he was posing on the canvas under a different knock de plume. While leaping from tank to tank on the Pantages circuit, Conway Tearle dug him up in Ohio. Clinkers' name at that time was The Furious Mandlebaum. He fought around Pensacola and Oregon. He played split-weeks in Montreal and New Orleans.

THEN HE switched his tumbling title to Walloping Beezark. Under new management, he continued his remarkable career: He engaged in 400 fights in 354 days and grabbed saddle sores on his shoulderblades from dusting off the floor. His new manager was Joe Maxwell, who signed him up by wire. The first look Joe got at his new battler was the last.

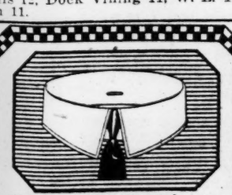

AFTER THAT, Clinkers took his present name in the ring, but continued to use others on checks. This habit earned him a training trip to Joliet, that famous beauty parlor for the eradicating of freckles and sunburn.

COMING OUT unexpectedly, Clinkers looked up a new manager. Ponzi offered to incorporate him and sell him to the New England farmers at 400 per cent a week. He wanted a manager who wouldn't spend Clinkers' end of the purse on a good cigar. Eddie Curley took over the Clinker and groomed him for the championship of the hotel lobbies.

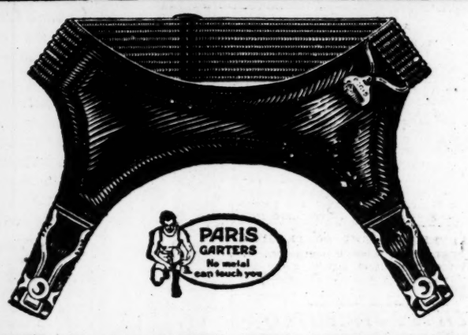

THE FIGHT with Gink Fowler was a tearjerker. Gink never even gave the Clinker a chance to get his back on the floor. This was the Clinker's only pose. Deprived of that, he was like a hood without an engine. Gink had wanted this fight to take place in Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Missouri, the only three states in the union where you can shoot live pigeons. Clinkers protested against this charitable piece of philanthropic engineering and insisted on the scuffle being held under the blue laws of Vermont. Under the blueine laws the fighters were compelled to wear out sixteen pairs of shoes each round. The man who struck the first thump in righteous anger lost the bout.

GINK WON easily. This shows the power of the man. Roughtown flashed its appreciation by holding a magnificent parade up a blind alley. All the washlines were especially decorated for this occasion.

THE CLINKER went back to his cage in the zoo and now wears spools under his insteps to prevent his arches from cutting up the concrete roads. Gink is a wealthy but respected citizen of Roughtown, through with fighting forever, unless some of his wife's relatives start to swamp him on a friendly visit.

WEST POINT PIONEER IS CALLED BY DEATH

E. F. Lanier, Widely-Known Business Man, Dies at Age of 81.

West Point, Ga., April 3.—(Special.)—E. F. Lanier, one of the most prominent business men and citizens of Troup county, died at his home here Sunday morning following a brief illness.

Mr. Lanier, who was 81 years of age, had lived in West Point for the greater part of his life, and had been associated with all progressive and civic movements of his section. He was a confederate veteran, serving with distinction during the war between the states. Up until the time of his retirement from active business, on account of his advanced age a few years ago, Mr. Lanier was connected with practically all business development of his native city, and had other large interests throughout the state. He has hundreds of friends who will feel keen regret at the news of his death.

Surviving him are his widow; four sons, Phil Lanier, J. C. Lanier, Horace Lanier and W. C. Lanier, all prominent business men of West Point, and three daughters, Mrs. E. C. Branson, of Chapel Hill, N. C.; Mrs. Allen F. Johnson, of New York city, and Mrs. Belle Baker, of West Point.

Funeral services will be held at the home in West Point Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the Rev. S. B. Speigel, pastor of the Christian church, officiating.

Gospel Tabernacle To Hold Convention, Beginning Sunday

The big Gospel Tabernacle on Capitol avenue, near Fair street, completion of which was announced a few weeks ago, will hold its first convention beginning next Sunday and continuing throughout an eight-day period.

The series of meetings will be under the auspices of the Christian and Missionary alliance and will embrace evangelistic sermons, Bible teaching on prophecy and other themes, and missionary addresses. Rev. John Wesley Lee, of Chicago; Rev. Thomas M. Chalmers, of New York city; Rev. B. F. Armstrong, of Newark, N. J., and E. F. Erwin, a returned missionary from French Indo China, are among the speakers definitely engaged.

It is planned to have street meetings on downtown corners preceding the night services at the tabernacle. The pastor of the local work, Rev. Thomas L. Marsden, was a well-known minister of Springfield, Ill., prior to his coming here.

Ad Men and Wives Meet at East Lake On Tuesday Evening

Members of the Atlanta Ad Men's club, with their wives, will gather Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock at East Lake, the occasion being a preconvention social gathering in order that the membership, and particularly the wives of the members, may become closer acquainted.

The wives of the members are to play an important part in the entertainment and hospitality to be extended when the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World meet in Atlanta in June.

Tuesday night a buffet supper will be served, after which there will be a vaudeville program and stunts followed by dancing. Prizes are also to be given away to the ladies in a drawing contest.

FOREIGN WHEAT CROP PROSPECTS REPORTED GOOD

The condition of cereal crops in the northern hemisphere was described as "generally favorable" by the department of agriculture.

Mild winter weather in almost all the reporting countries was held to have been an important factor in the crop situation.

The bureau said that although several reports had been received as to Russian crops, nothing reliable had come through and the effects of the soviet plan for the compulsory sowing of all land remained to oe seen.

Due to mild weather seeding was reported to have started in the Canadian province of Saskatchewan and Alberta a month earlier than usual. Winter rains improved the autumn-sown cereals in France, while climatic conditions have been generally favorable for spring work in the fields. Spring cultivation was reported as further advanced than usual in the United Kingdom and the wheat, of which the area sown was slightly greater this year, "is a strong healthy plant."

Crops in Finland were said to be in a "promising condition," and in Belgium the late sown wheat was reported somewhat irregular, though otherwise germination has been satisfactory.

The Italian crops were reported as making normal progress, and the wheat area in Rumania was estimated at 5.3 per cent over last year. The agricultural situation in Spain was said to be favorable. Fair and mild weather in Germany was declared to have been favorable to the crops and the cereal prospects satisfactory.

The total wheat acreage in India was estimated at 23,352,000 acres and the sugar cane area at 2,553,000 acres, a decrease of 5 per cent over last year.

From the southern hemisphere, Argentina reported a continuation of favorable climatic conditions, although rains toward the end of the harvest may result in some damage. Excessive rains were reported from Australia, but the latest figures indicated the output of wheat would reach 147,000,000 bushels.

The bureau noted an effort to encourage the production of hemp in the prairie provinces of western Canada with a view to substituting the home grown product for the imported.

Commodities Still On Downward Path Dun's Review Shows

The excess of declines over advances in wholesale commodity prices continues marked, the former numbering seventy-one and the latter eighteen this week. This is the forty-seventh consecutive week during which recessions have predominated. Last week reductions numbered sixty-two out of a total of ninety-two changes; a year ago, on the other hand, Dun's list disclosed a few more advances than declines.

The now familiar erratic movement in wheat was again in evidence this week. Much was made of reports of freezing temperature in parts of the belt early in the week, and prices rose, only to fall back again on denials that frost had seriously damaged the crop. Corn and oats tended downward most of the time, owing largely to a limited cash demand and export inquiry. Live meats were easy, liberal marketings having a depressing effect on beef, hogs and sheep, while provisions reflected the situation in the raw material. Prices of dairy products omved irregularly, butter developing strength after an early decline. An increased consumption, due to the low basis to which quotations have fallen on the recent break, imparted rather more firmness to eggs.

Fewer price changes have occurred in iron and steel, but the undertone of the markets continues depressed, and the minor metals are still unsettled. More steadiness has developed in textiles, whereas the yielding of hide prices has been extended.

Weekly Cotton Review

New Orleans, April 3. — After making gains of about a quarter of a cent in the early trading of last week, the cotton market commenced to sag, and this tendency persisted to the end, the lowest levels coming during the closing session, when the trading months were 58 to 65 points under the close of the preceding week. May traded down to 11.30 and closed at 11.36. In the last prices the list showed net losses of 54 to 59 points. In the spot department middling closed at 11.25, showing a net gain on the week of 25 points.

Much of the selling of the week was due to the British labor situation, although on the closing session there was selling which comment around the ring set down for the account of Texas traders. It was accompanied by reports that early planted cotton in that state was doing unusually well and by predictions that the first new bales of the season would be marketed at a very early date.

The tone was steadied at the decline by the cold and wet weather the greater part of the week and the general conviction that over a good part of the belt planting and preparations to plant were being interfered with. [illegible] weekly review of the crops was southern portions of the belt, but ...ating less progress with planting in Texas than generally expected. Private Texas reports indicated a mixed crop situation in that state, with planting finished in the southern sections, but going ahead slowly farther north. In some portions of the state it was claimed that no plowing at all had been done, and that the stalks from the crop were still standing in the fields.

This week the coal miners' strike in England cannot help being a dominating influence. It is likely that a general buying movement would result from any progress toward settling the strike, but general selling seems bound to result if railway and transport workers decide to support the miners. New crop news is bound to be given more consideration, for the bulk of the crop is planted during April, and any turn for the bad in the weather would cause alarm among the shorts. Favorable weather would hardly have as much effect as unfavorable weather, for the simple reason that it is a foregone conclusion that a very small acreage will be planted this year. A private bureau estimate last week claimed that 12,000,000 acres of cotton land would be thrown out of cotton cultivation this spring as the result of the campaign to reduce acreage which has been waged from one end of the belt to the other.

Textile Trades Ready for Changes Under High Tariff

Boston, April 3. — Prospective tariff developments in Washington have stimulated wool and cotton trading here somewhat for the past few weeks, the general opinion among textile men being that the emergency tariff bill vetoed by President Wilson will be passed at the next session of congress.

Plans are being made for effective merchandising under conditions that a high tariff will probably bring, and the wool trade here, as well as the cotton trade, appears to be fairly well united in support of the tariff measures, though there was previously a division of opinion on the question.

The majority of textile manufacturers and traders have been swung into line by the feeling that the American industries of cotton and wool growing need a stiff protective tariff. The demand for Egyptian cotton has led to experiments in raising it in this country, and, while there is diversity of opinion as to whether the home product is equal to that from the shores of the Nile, cotton men agree that the American industry should be given a chance.

In like manner wool men became united for a protective tariff when it was claimed that the sheep industry would be ruined, the flocks greatly reduced, and damage done that would take years to remedy, if some preventive action were not taken soon.

Wool continues to be imported in record-breaking quantities. About 125,000,000 pounds of foreign wool have been brought into this port since the beginning of the year, compared with 168,300,000 pounds for all the year 1920.

A piece of wood containing straps that hold the toes of slippers has been patented by a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y., to enable a person to put on or receive his footwear with a minimum of effort.

D'ANNUNZIO OFFERED PLACE AS DEPUTY

Rome, April 3.—Gabriele d'Annunzio has received offers from several constituencies to elect him their deputy to the chamber of deputies in the next general elections. The tenders have come from his native town of Pescara and from Rome, Trieste and other places. D'Annunzio in reply has announced that he will only accept the candidature for one of the new provinces, preferably Zara.

AMERICA TO DECIDE CUBAN ELECTION ROW

Liberals to Offer Proof of Alleged Crimes and Law Violations.

Washington, April 3.—Proofs of crimes and violations of law in the recent Cuban elections are to be presented to the American state department, according to General Jose Miguel Gomez, defeated presidential candidate of the liberal party, with the request that this government make a decision.

Gomez said he will give these proofs to Mr. Manuel R. Angulo, representative of the Cuban liberal party here.

"Dr. Angulo will present all this evidence to the department of state with a formal petition from the liberal party, requesting the government of the United States to make a definite decision in this dispute, which decision we will gladly respect, even if it should be against us, providing it determined whether or not the Cuban elections were the result of intimidation, fraud and violence, and whether the candidate who claims to be elected has or has not the majority of the electoral votes," said Gomez.

"The Cuban liberals appeal to the United States as a last recourse. We are jealous of our sovereignty and we would prefer to settle our own internal affairs in our own way. But limitations are placed upon activities by the permanent treaty between the United States and Cuba, by reiterated declarations of high officials of the United States, and by the attitude taken by General Crowder.

"Moreover, the liberals appeal to the United States, because this country guaranteed them honest elections. If the government of the United States should refuse to judge the Cuban electoral disputes, the only thing then left for the Cuban people in my personal opinion would be for them to resign themselves to political bondage, since the American government has prevented them from solving their problem in other ways."

Prince Rupprecht, "king of Bavaria," is of interest to Englishmen as a decendant of the English royal house of Stuart. The Stuarts claim his mother, Queen Mary of Bavaria, as the rightful sovereign of the British islands as the ninth in decent from the bonny King Charles.

Hamlet Not Looney Claims Author of 'Who's Looney Now'

Shakespeare Confides Secrets to Public Through Chaloner.

New York, April 3.—Shakespeare didn't intend Hamlet to be taken seriously in his mad scene; neither did he, with his meager, education, really devise the Shakespearean plays.

New York has this on the authority of John Armstrong Chaloner, the millionaire spiritualist, author and lecturer, who made himself famous years ago by propounding the classic query, "Who's looney now?"

In a lecture before a large New York audience, Chaloner called down the spirit of Shakespeare to testify in the case of the public versus Hamlet, a test action, as it were, to decide whether Hamlet was crazy or just looked that way. And Shakespeare, according to Chaloner, animated Chaloner's hand, through automatic spirit writing, to record the fact that the bard merely intended Hamlet to feign insanity. The scene was overwritten, perhaps, Shakespeare conceded, leading the public to believe Hamlet really was "looney."

Shakespeare got his "stuff" from a lady muse then resident on Mount Parnassus, he told the public through Chaloner. It was simple for him to write it down as the spirit of the lady muse dictated, but to write it himself—odds pollywobbles, no!
